About the College

What one first notices about the Mars Hill College campus is the unusual combination of the old and the new, the traditional and the modern. A two-story brick building, Founders Hall, erected in 1892, stands in stark simplicity alongside a contemporary three-story structure, Blackwell Hall. The programs described in this catalog also reflect the merging of the traditional and the contemporary. At Mars Hill College we are conscious of both the enduring core values of our heritage and the demands of the twenty-first century.

The old symbolically represents the rich 149-year heritage of Mars Hill College and its tradition of serving thousands of young people from throughout North Carolina, the United States, and the world. The traditional also points to the strong emphasis, throughout our existence, on providing students a broad liberal arts education which includes academic skills and knowledge that have been valued for centuries; and we note our Baptist roots which are a significant part of our long commitment to education in a Christian context.

The new, the modern, symbolically represents the commitment of Mars Hill to offering the kind of education that will make our students aware of the practical benefits of the knowledge and skills provided by a liberal arts education. It also speaks of our continuing efforts to consider the needs of the community and of society in our programs, our facilities, and our technology.

In the fusing of the traditional and the modern, Mars Hill College asserts that we value, cultivate, and build on a rich heritage of liberal arts education; and we strive to give our students the skills and knowledge they will need to adapt to and function well in the rapidly changing world which they will enter. We intend to empower our graduates for service and leadership within their chosen vocations.

Our Mountain Home

Mars Hill College is located in one of the most beautiful and healthful regions of the Eastern United States, the mountains of Western North Carolina. The town, which derives its name from the college, has a population of about 2,200. It is 18 miles north of Asheville, via the new Interstate 26. Asheville is the largest city in the western third of the state with a population of approximately 69,000. Asheville has the sophisticated attractions of a major metropolis, and is known for its quality arts, crafts, and music offerings. Its annual Bele Chere festival each summer draws about 300,000 people. The campus is also 10 miles east of Marshall, the county seat of Madison County.

From the 194-acre campus, which has an elevation of 2,330 feet, an inspiring panorama of lofty peaks may be viewed, including the Craggies, Clingman's Peak and Pisgah. Such scenic attractions as Mount Mitchell, Great Smoky Mountains National Park, Craggy Gardens, Linville Falls and Cavern, Biltmore House and Gardens, Big Bald Mountain, and the Blue Ridge Parkway are within easy driving distance.

Located in a small town surrounded by mountains, rivers, woods and all the outdoor activities they offer, the college's environment offers ample opportunity for study and reflection. However, its proximity to Asheville (about 20 minutes by car) allows access to city amenities like shopping, restaurants, entertainment, transportation, medical and other facilities.

History of the College

Mars Hill College is the oldest educational institution on its original site in Western North Carolina. It was founded by a small group of pioneer citizens, descendants of the original settlers of the area. On a tract of land given by Edward Carter they erected a modest building. Most of the work was done by voluntary labor; some was performed by an Asheville contractor.

The school opened in the fall of 1856 as the French Broad Baptist Academy, taking its name for the association of churches in which it was located. The first president was W. A. G. Brown. He was succeeded in 1858 by the Rev. J. B. Marsh of Binghamton, NY, who served until the outbreak of the Civil War in 1861.

On February 16, 1859, the school was chartered by the North Carolina General Assembly as Mars Hill College, a name suggested by trustee Lewis Palmer (1791–1874). Palmer suggested the name based on scripture from the Bible's Acts 17:22, "Then Paul stood in the midst of Mars Hill . . ." The charter gave the college power to confer "all such degrees and marks of literary distinction as are usually conferred in colleges or seminaries of learning."

During the first two years of the Civil War, the school remained in operation, but from 1863 until 1865 it was closed. After the war the institution was kept alive by the heroic efforts of local men and women. Fourteen men filled the presidency during the next 32 years.

1897 was, in a sense, a second founding. Under his leadership the college grew continuously, its assets multiplied, and its character as an institution of higher education was firmly established.

During most of its early history the college was operated as an academy or boarding high school, but it did offer some college-level courses. In 1921 it was reorganized as a junior college and became a successful pioneer in that field.

In 1938, after 41 years of distinctive service, Dr. Moore retired from the presidency. A scholarly member of the faculty, Dr. Hoyt Blackwell, was unanimously selected as his successor. Under Dr. Blackwell’s leadership the progress of the school continued. High standards were maintained, facilities were expanded and improved, and the curriculum was revised.

In 1960 the Baptist State Convention approved plans for converting Mars Hill into a senior college. The junior year was added in 1962–63, and the first baccalaureate degrees were awarded in May 1964.

After 28 years of distinguished service as president Dr. Blackwell retired; and on July 1, 1966, he was succeeded by Dr. Fred Blake Bentley, at that time the youngest college president in the nation. Taking “Emphasis on Excellence” as the creed of his administration, he guided Mars Hill to accreditation as a senior college, led faculty development and curriculum innovation, and fostered numerous other educational and physical advances. After almost 30 years in the presidency, he retired in February, 1996. In March, 1996, Dr. A. Max Lennon (Class of 1960) returned to Mars Hill College as President, and served until January, 2002.

The Mars Hill College Board of Trustees named Dan G. Lunsford (Class of 1969) as Interim President on January 25, 2002, and on May 9, 2003, the Board of Trustees affirmed his leadership by naming him President of the college. Dr. Lunsford earned his B.A. in Elementary Education from Mars Hill, and a M. A. and Ed.D. in Education Administration from the University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill. Dr. Lunsford had a long career in public education in North Carolina and returned to Mars Hill College in 1998 as Dean of the School of Education and Leadership. President Lunsford now leads his alma mater in preparation for its 2006 sesquicentennial, the development of a new strategic plan, implementation of a student enrollment growth plan, and planning for major facilities improvement.

Admissions

Mars Hill College offers admission to all qualified applicants. However, early submission of all required documents is encouraged to ensure timely processing and financial aid counseling. Admission decisions are made on a rolling basis, usually within one week of the receipt of a complete application. Further, all rights generally accorded to students are made without regard to race, color, religion, national or ethnic origin, sex, or impairment of the student. The college affirms its intent to comply with Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, the Americans with Disabilities Act, Title IX, and other relevant civil rights laws.

Campus Visits

All students interested in attending Mars Hill College are strongly encouraged to attend a campus visit. The visit will allow the student to meet faculty, admissions and financial aid staff, and take a campus tour. Contact the admissions office at admissions@mhc.edu or call 1-866-MHC-4YOU.

Freshmen

Candidates must submit an application, a $25 application fee, high school transcript, and SAT or ACT scores. A personal essay is strongly recommended. The transcript must be from an accredited educational institution. Applicants are encouraged to complete a minimum of 18 units with a C average or better on college preparatory units. Such units should include 4 English, 2 History, 2 Natural Science, and 3 Mathematics. It is recommended that the balance include 2 Foreign Language and/or 1 Computer Science unit. A final transcript certifying high school graduation must be submitted prior to the first day of class. Failure to submit official transcripts from all colleges attended and failure to submit official final high school transcripts will result in the suspension of financial aid. The General Equivalency Diploma (GED) is acceptable certification of diploma. However, the incomplete high school transcript must be submitted in addition to the GED. Homeschool students must provide documentation showing registration with the North Carolina Division of Non-Public Education or with an equivalent agency.

Transfer Students

Candidates must submit the application for admission, $25 application fee, official high school transcripts, SAT or ACT scores (these may be waived if 15 or more transferable semester hours have been earned), and official college transcripts from all previous institutions.

Transcript evaluations are completed once an offer of admission is made to the student. Credit is granted on a course-to-course basis and all transfer credits, including grades and quality points, will be entered on the student's transcript.

Transcripts from institutions not accredited by a regional accrediting agency will be evaluated on a course-to-course basis when the student submits the course descriptions, course syllabi, and faculty credentials. The Registrar, in cooperation with the department chairpersons, will determine credit to be granted.

Although a student may transfer more than 68 hours of credit from a community college, he/she must complete 60 semester hours at the senior college (4-year) level. In order to receive a degree from Mars Hill College at student must earn the last 32 semester hours at Mars Hill (12 in the major) with at least a cumulative 2.0 grade point average.

Transfer Credit under the North Carolina Comprehensive Articulation Agreement

Mars Hill College participates in the North Carolina Comprehensive Articulation Agreement which provides for transfer of credits from the North Carolina Community Colleges. Students who have completed the core curriculum in a college transfer program, as outlined in the NCCAA, and apply to study any major at Mars Hill College will receive general education core credit* for their credits from a North Carolina Community College. Students completing the associate degree will enter Mars Hill with junior classification, and most majors can be completed within two years. Some professional programs may require additional semesters of study. Students entering Mars Hill under this transfer agreement must also meet the minimum levels of residency credit outlining above.

*Students entering the ACCESS program at Mars Hill will be required to take the LAA 101 Reflective Life Experience general education class.

International Students

Any student who has not established legal residency in the United States is considered an international student for admission purposes. Such candidates must submit the following information to the Admission Office for consideration: 1) application with $25 application fee, 2) two letters of recommendation from individuals who can attest to academic ability and personal character, 3) official transcripts from previous or current institutions (translated into English if necessary), 4) SAT, ACT or TOEFL scores, 5) national examination results, such as A levels (United Kingdom), Baccalaureate (France), 6) a financial statement certifying the student's ability to meet college and personal expenses, and 7) official documentation from banks and/or corporate sponsors or government ministry verifying financial ability to meet the costs of education for one year. Admission decisions are made on a rolling basis. However, it is strongly recommended that international students have their completed applications submitted early to allow for I-20 processing.

A comprehensive orientation to the college as well as academic and personal counseling is specially prepared for international students. The International Club provides casual outings, speaking opportunities in the community, and good fellowship for all students. The college is an institutional member of both the National Association of Foreign Student Affairs and the Institute of International Education. Mars Hill College has limited financial aid for international students. Further inquiry concerning international students may be directed to the Admission Office.

Readmission

Students who withdraw from Mars Hill College for any reason must apply for readmission through the Admission Office. All transcripts from other institutions attended during this absence must be submitted to the Admission Office. Further, students who discontinue their enrollment for one year or more will be under the requirements of the catalog in effect at the time of readmission.

Generally a student's catalog of entry is considered his/her catalog for general education, major, and minor requirements as long as he/she is continuously enrolled full-time. However, when significant general education, major, or minor requirements change, the student may be required (or may choose) to complete the requirements, with appropriate substitutions, in a subsequent catalog. Full-time or part-time students not completing a degree within six years may be required to complete current catalog requirements.

Readmission After Academic Suspension

Students who leave Mars Hill College while on academic probation or who have been suspended for academic reasons, will only be accepted for readmission if they have attended another accredited institution and raised their cumulative grade point average to that required for academic good standing for their classification upon readmission.

In exceptional cases, the Admissions, Academic Standards and Financial Aid Committee may vote to readmit a student who does not qualify under the previous conditions, if, and only if, 1) it is possible for the student to attain good standing within one semester of readmission without taking an overload and 2) the student's previous academic record at Mars Hill College gives strong indication that the requisite grades to attain good standing will be attained.

In no case will a student suspended for academic reasons from Mars Hill College be readmitted to the college more than three times.

Early Admission

High school students of exceptional ability and motivation may begin their college careers through either summer or regular semester enrollment while continuing their high school education. Such credits will apply toward a degree at Mars Hill College. All candidates must follow the application process for regular freshmen, submit recommendations from two high school personnel with regard to psychological, social, and academic readiness, and request an interview with the Director of Admission. Federal financial assistance is unavailable for early admission students.

Dual Enrollment

High school juniors or seniors, or equivalent status, who wish to take classes at Mars Hill College under dual enrollment may do so if they meet the following criteria:

1. Student must submit an application for

- admission to Mars Hill College;
 2. Student must submit a letter of recommendation from both a guidance counselor and a high school principal, (homeschool students may omit this section);
 3. Student must submit a copy of high school transcripts that show they are in good academic standing.
 4. Any student who chooses to take a physical education class and/or 4 semester hours or more at Mars Hill College must also submit a medical examination form and immunization records as required by state law.
- A fee for each course is $195. Students are responsible for purchasing their books and other necessary materials.
 - Mars Hill College facilities are available for these students and their parents/guardians at no extra cost (excluding course-specific fees), which include Renfro Library, computer labs, and Curriculum Library (located in Nash Building).
 - Students are limited to three courses per semester. It is strongly recommended that students register for high school classes as a contingency plan. Only freshman and sophomore classes will be offered to dual enrollment students, unless otherwise approved. Regular admission Mars Hill College students have priority over classes that a dual or home school student may desire.

Medical Examination Forms

North Carolina law provides that "no person shall attend a college or university unless a certificate of immunization indicating that the person has received immunizations required by North Carolina General Statute is presented to the college or university on or before the first day of enrollment."

A Certificate of Medical Examination form, which includes space for the listing of the required immunizations, must be completed, submitted to the Admission Office, and approved by the Manager of Health Services before the student is permitted to register for classes. Failure to submit the completed medical form prior to registration could result in delayed registration or inability to register at all. International students must present the medical form upon arrival, and athletes will not be permitted to dress out and practice until this form is submitted.

Policy on Persons with Disabilities

Mars Hill College affirms its intent to comply with federal regulations regarding persons with disabilities, specifically with Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and with the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990. The college does not discriminate on the basis of disability in employment or admissions, and the college makes reasonable accommodations as needed for persons with documented disabilities. Questions and grievances should be directed to the Committee on Disabilities at PO Box 6714, or to ccain@mhc.edu.

Adult ACCESS - Accelerated Credit/Continuing Education/ Summer School

Mars Hill College offers accelerated degree completion programs evenings and weekends to working adults who have full-time jobs and family responsibilities and who wish to continue their education toward a Bachelor's degree or licensure in education. ACCESS classes are offered on campus and in Asheville, Burnsville, Hendersonville, Marion, and Waynesville/Clyde. Enrollment may be for one course or for several. Majors offered in ACCESS include Education, Special Education, Business Management, and Social Work. Licensure programs are offered in Education and English as a Second Language. A limited amount of credit may be earned through credit by examinations, internships, and independent study. These options are the same as for regular students.

Adult ACCESS students should submit a special ACCESS application and all high school and college transcripts to the ACCESS office and pay the regular $25 fee. The SAT and ACT scores are not required for ACCESS applicants. Admissions decisions are made on a rolling basis, usually within two weeks of receipt of the completed applications.

Continuing Education in ACCESS coordinates camps, conferences and lifelong learning and enrichment programs on- and off-campus during the summer and throughout the academic year. ACCESS develops and sponsors Elderhostel, corporate education and training, and learning programs such as the Blue Ridge Old Time Music Week, the Christian Study and Fellowship Conference and the Mars Hill College Summer Band Camp.

Further inquiry about ACCESS and the two sessions of Summer School it administers on- and off-campus can be obtained by contacting the Dean of ACCESS or by calling (828) 689-1166 or 1-800-582-3047, or visiting the website at www.mhc.edu/ACCESS.asp. You are also invited to visit our offices in Spilman Hall.

Brown/Turner Hall	2,030	2,030	4,060
Campus Dining*	1,512	1,512	3,024

Dining fees: *Charge for freshmen, 19 meals per week. Charge for all other students who live in college housing depends on meal plan enrollment. See Food Services section, page 8.

Part-time fees: All part-time students (those taking fewer than 12 credit hours) pay $537 per credit hour instead of the full-time tuition charge.

Auditing a course: A fee of $160 is charged for auditing a course. A full-time student may audit one course free of charge, but will be charged a fee if the course requires the use of special supplies.

Single room: The cost of a private room, when available, will be the regular charge for one person plus 30 percent of that charge except for students living in Townhouses or Apartments.

Textbooks: Estimated $475 for the first semester and $275 for the second, textbooks are available in the College Bookstore along with other school supplies. All purchases are on a cash or credit card (Visa/Discover/Master Card) basis. A limited supply of secondhand books may be purchased at considerable savings.

Summer School Costs 2005

Charges for attending each 5-week term of the 2005 summer session are as follows:

Registration Fee	$25
Tuition	$192 per credit hour
Room	$320
Meals	$160 25 meals
	$320 50 meals
Auditing a course	$160

The cost of attending the 2006 summer terms will not be determined until early spring 2006.

Other Charges 2005-2006

Application fee (non refundable)	$ 25
Applied Music (per credit hour)	420
Accompanist Fee	180
Credit by Exam (per credit hour)	130
Dual Enrollment (per course)	205
Overload (per credit hour) ¹	510
Reflective Life Credit (per credit hour)	80
Facilities Cost Recovery Fee ²	225

² If students are allowed to break their MHC housing and food service contract during the academic year, there will be a facilities cost recovery fee.

Schedule Of Payments

Each semester’s expenses must be paid in full by the due date. The Business Office mails statements in June for the fall semester payment that is due in July and in December for the spring semester payment that is due in January. A mid-semester billing may be necessary for any miscellaneous fees not known at the time of registration.

All charges are due and payable in accordance with this schedule. Students who do not make the required payments promptly may be suspended from school.

Final official high school and college transcripts are required before financial aid will be disbursed. Failure to submit these transcripts will result in loss of financial aid.

For Fall Semester

Advanced tuition payment - (a) $250 for incoming residential students payable within three weeks of the date of acceptance for admission, (b) $150 for incoming non-residential students, and (c) $150 for continuing students. The advanced tuition payment is fully refundable to incoming students until May 1.

For Spring Semester

Veterans

Special payment arrangements will be made for students receiving educational benefits. Please contact the Business Office by July 1.

Monthly Payment Plan

Some students and their parents may be unable to meet the preceding schedules of payments or prefer to make monthly installments through most of the year. All arrangements for monthly payments must be through Academic Management Services and payments should begin in the summer prior to enrollment. Information concerning these programs is sent to parents of all students each year.

Financial Obligations and Refund Policy for Withdrawing from College

The College contracts for various services it provides to students. Most such obligations are made in the spring for the following academic year. These include (but are not limited to) faculty and staff salaries, food service management, and commitments to new students. Registration is considered a contract binding the students and their parents for charges for the entire semester. The college will, however, allow a reduction in charges through the first four weeks of the semester in certain cases.

A student who drops below 12 credit hours after the end of four weeks from the date of registration will be charged the full semester’s charges.

A student who withdraws from school because of personal illness must obtain a statement from a physician chosen by the college who recommends discontinuance. Refunds for certified medical withdrawals will be computed using the reduction schedule below.

A student suspended for disciplinary purposes does not receive reductions and is liable for the cost of the entire semester.

The Refund Policy as it pertains to federal aid recipients is subject to change as necessary to remain in compliance with federal regulations.

The financial balance percentage due will be computed on total charges for tuition, room and campus dining. In addition total fees and fines are due.

- Withdrawals during the first week (August 24-30; January 11-17) result in a financial obligation of 20%.

- Withdrawals during the second week (August 31-September 6; January 18-24) result in a financial obligation of 40%.
- Withdrawals during the third week (September 7-13; January 25-31) result in a financial obligation of 60%.
- Withdrawals during the fourth week (September 14-20; February 1-7) result in a financial obligation of 80%.

If a student withdraws from school, college scholarships will be prorated according to the appropriate schedule. Federal aid is determined by the Return of Title IV Funds guidelines. (See Academic Section for the academic record consequences of withdrawal and the process for official withdrawal from the college.)

If the financial aid package exceeds direct costs (tuition, room, board, and course related fees), a student may receive a refund from the Business Office. Financial aid packages generally can exceed direct costs only if the students secures a loan. Refunds resulting from excess financial aid will not be issued until ALL financial aid funding has been received by the college.

A student officially withdrawing from school should follow a specific withdrawal procedure initiated in the Student Life or the Admissions Office.

Return of Title IV Funds

Students who withdraw from school must notify Mars Hill College of their intent in writing. The withdrawal process will begin in the Student Life or Admissions Office. Students must complete a withdrawal form to start the official withdrawal process. A date of withdrawal will be determined in order to return any Title IV funds. If the student does not notify the school, the midpoint of the semester will be used as the official withdrawal date. If the student did not notify the school because of circumstances beyond the student’s control, then the date related to that circumstance will be used as the official withdrawal date. Other dates such as the last date of attendance or attendance at an academically-related activity may be used in certain circumstances.

Students may rescind their official notification with written notification to the Student Life Office. If the student stops attending class subsequent to the rescission, the withdrawal date is the original date of notice of intent to withdraw.

The Return of Title IV calculations for all Federal aid are based on current Department of Education regulations and are subject to change. These regulations can be found in the Financial Aid Office.

Any funds other than Title IV funds will be refunded in the following order: state funds, outside donors, institutional funds and cash to the student. The amount of the refund cannot exceed the amount of the original award/ disbursement.

Mars Hill College will then determine the institutional charges for the payment period. Typical institutional charges are tuition, fees, room, board or books and supplies that students must purchase from the school. A student may authorize the school to include any non-institutional charges such as group health insurance, if it is required of all students and stays in effect.

A student who misses two consecutive weeks of class is reported to the Retention Office. If the student cannot be contacted and does not return to class, an administrative withdrawal is effected.

Miscellaneous

Infirmary: Infirmiry patients who require personally prescribed drugs, other supplies, and/ or emergency transportation will be responsible for such charges.

Insurance: All full-time students are automatically included in the $5,000 Blanket Accident Program. In addition, sickness coverage is added on a waiver basis. The plan is required for all full-time students unless waived by completing the college waiver form indicating other health insurance is in effect. The additional cost of the health insurance is $200, $116 for second semester enrollees (rates may change). The waiver must be completed and returned to the Business Office no later than September 1, 2003 (January 17, 2005 for second semester enrollees).

Returned checks: A fine of $30 is charged by the Business Office for each “non-sufficient funds check” received from any student. Check cashing privileges will be revoked after the first offense.

Transcripts of academic record: A transcript is an exact copy of a student’s permanent academic record at the time it is issued. One official transcript will be provided free. Additional and/or subsequent copies will cost $6 (faxed requests $8) each after termination of enrollment at the college. No official transcript may be issued to or for a student who is indebted to the college until such indebtedness (tuition, fees, various fines, and all loans) has been paid or satisfactory arrangements have been made with the Business Office. Official transcripts are released only upon the written request of the student to the Registrar’s Office.

On-campus Residence Requirement

The college recognizes the educational benefits to be derived from living on campus; therefore, all freshman and sophomore students must live and eat on campus unless they are living at home with parents or legal guardians, are 21 years of age, are veterans of 180 or more consecutive days of military service, or are married.

Students who reserve a room on campus must sign a Mars Hill Housing Contract and Food Service Contract. The term of the contract is for the full academic year. The provisions of the contract and the information included in the Mars Hill College Student Handbook and Residential Living Policies and Regulations pamphlet apply to any student living in campus housing.

A student to whom the Housing and Food Service Contract applies is liable for the academic year’s charges unless conditions of the Refund Policy are met.

Food Services

All students living in campus housing are required to purchase a board (meal) plan. Food services will provide a flexible access meal plan offering several options to students pending class status. Meal equivalencies are available at all food service facilities.

FRESHMEN: (On Campus)
Blue Meal Plan, $1,512: 19 meals per week with $50 Bonus Bucks¹
Bronze Meal Plan, $1,626: 15 meals per week with $150 Bonus Bucks

SOPHOMORES/JUNIORS: (On Campus)²
Blue Meal Plan
Bronze Meal Plan
Gold Meal Plan, $1,480: 10 meals per week with $150 Bonus Bucks

SENIORS: (On Campus)
Blue Meal Plan
Bronze Meal Plan
Gold Meal Plan
Lion’s Plan, $975: 7 meals per week

¹ Bonus Bucks are restricted to food purchases only and must be used during the semester purchased. These dollars can be used in all food service facilities. Balances are not transferable between semesters and are not refundable.

² Juniors who choose to live in the Dickson-Palmer Apartments may opt for the 7-, 10-, 15- or 19-meal plan.

Financial Aid Information

The primary responsibility of meeting the costs of college belongs to the student and the student’s family.

- 1. Mars Hill College understands that there may exist circumstances that make it difficult for a student and his/her family to meet the entire cost of a college education.
- 2. Therefore, the Financial Aid Office at Mars Hill College participates in various need-based, merit-based, and other aid programs to help cover the difference between what a student can afford to pay for college and the cost of college itself.

The first step of the financial aid process begins when a student completes the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). The FAFSA may be obtained from a high school counselor’s office, on the World Wide Web at www.fafsa.ed.gov, or from the Financial Aid Office at Mars Hill College. The FAFSA provides the Financial Aid Office with a vast amount of information including the Expected Family Contribution (EFC). The EFC is the result of an elaborate formula that includes the parents’ income and assets (for dependent students) and the student’s income and assets (for all students). By taking the Cost of Attendance (Direct Costs plus Indirect Costs) and subtracting the EFC, the Financial Aid Office determines the student’s Federal financial need. The cost of attendance for each individual student can be obtained from the Financial Aid office.

Need-Based Aid

Need-based aid is used to assist a student with a portion of his/her need up to but not exceeding the direct cost of school.

Examples of Need-Based Aid

Federal

- 1. Pell Grant - The Pell Grant is the base grant in the Federal financial aid programs. For 2004–2005, full-time students with an EFC of $3,850 or less are eligible to receive a grant that will range from $400 to $4,050. The grant is lower for less than full-time status.
- 2. Supplemental Education Opportunity Grant (SEOG) - This grant is a supplement to the Pell Grant. Awards are up to $2,000 and are limited to those students with the greatest need.
- 3. Work-Study - Students are given awards to work on campus. Students must apply and interview for a job. A check will be issued each month as the student works the required hours. Awards are up to $1,500 and are limited to those students with the greatest need.
- 4. Perkins Loan - This is a subsidized loan for high need students. The pool of money for this aid is limited. The student must complete a Promissory Note and have entrance counseling. Repayment begins nine months after the student drops below half-time, withdraws or graduates. At that time, the student must complete exit counseling as a reminder of his/her rights and responsibilities as a borrower of the Perkins Loan Program.
- 5. Subsidized Stafford Loan - This loan is subsidized (the federal government pays the interest while the student is enrolled in at least six hours). Freshmen, transfers and first time borrowers must complete a Master Promissory note and entrance counseling. The loan will be credited to a student's account approximately 30 days into the semester if the student is a first time borrower at Mars Hill College. Repayment begins six months after the student drops below half-time, leaves school or graduates. At that time, the student must complete exit counseling as a reminder of his/her rights and responsibilities as a borrower of the Stafford Loan Program.

State

- 6. North Carolina Contractual Grant - This grant is used to assist North Carolina residents with need. There is a limited amount of money. The grant amounts will vary.
- 7. North Carolina Student Incentive Grant - This grant is for high-need North Carolina residents whose FAFSA has been processed by March 15th. Awards are up to $700. The awards are made by the state, and Mars Hill College will receive notification.

Institutional

- 8. Mars Hill College Opportunity Grant - This grant assists students with need. Award amounts vary.

Merit Based Aid

Merit based aid is earned through special talent or academic achievement, and is awarded on an individual basis. Merit based aid is awarded with the expectation that a student maintains certain standards or performance goals.

Examples of Merit Based Aid

- 1. Presidential, Board of Trustees, Alumni and Mars Hill College Scholarships - These scholarships are for incoming students with at least a 3.0 GPA and a 1000 SAT score. Awards are for four years. Students must maintain a 3.0 GPA. The initial award will be changed if the student's housing status changes (i.e., student moves from on-campus housing to off-campus).

- 2. Leadership and Mars Hill College Awards - These awards are for incoming students with at least a 2.5 GPA and an 900 SAT score. Awards are for four years. Students must maintain a 2.0 GPA. The initial award will be changed if the student's housing status changes (i.e., student moves from on-campus housing to off-campus).
- 3. Honor Scholars Program - Potential honor scholars are invited to Mars Hill College to interview for scholarships that will qualify them to participate in the honor scholars program. Invitations are based on the minimum criteria of a 3.3 grade point average and 1050 SAT score. Recipients of the Grayson, Marshbanks, Leo White, and Church Leadership scholarships must maintain a 3.2 grade point average and complete 35 hours of service-learning each semester. For information about the Honor Scholars Program, see LifeWorks.
- 4. Athletic and Performance Area Grants - These grants are determined by the coaches of the individual sports and by the leaders of the various performance areas, such as clogging, band, choir, cheerleading, theatre and athletic training.

A student who does not meet the minimum grade point average for merit awards will be placed on scholarship probation for the following semester. If, during the following semester, the student's cumulative grade point average drops below the standard, yet the semester grade point average meets the standard, the student will continue on probation. If the student's cumulative grade point average and semester grade point average continue below the standard, the scholarship will be suspended until such time as the student brings his/her grade point average back to the standard.

Honor scholars who transfer from Mars Hill College and subsequently return will no longer be eligible to receive the honor scholarship. Merit awards for students who transfer from Mars Hill College and subsequently return will be determined by their transfer grade point average or last grade point average at Mars Hill College prior to transfer.

Non-Need-Based Aid

Federal

- 1. Unsubsidized Stafford Loan - This loan has the same criteria as the Subsidized Stafford Loan except the student is responsible for the interest that accrues while the student is in school.
- 2. PLUS (Parent) Loan - This is a loan that a parent may be eligible for to pay for a student's educational expenses. Eligibility is determined by the lender and is based on the credit standing of the parent. Repayment begins within 60 days after the final loan disbursement for the period of enrollment for which the parent borrowed. This loan will not automatically be added to the student's financial aid package, and must be requested by the parent.

State

- 3. North Carolina Legislative Tuition Grant - This grant is for eligible North Carolina residents who are full-time students attending private colleges and universities in North Carolina. The anticipated award for 2005-06 is $1,800.

Verification - A student's FAFSA may be selected for verification. In the verification process, the student completes a verification worksheet and provides a signed copy of his/her tax forms as well as his/her parents' tax forms if the student is dependent. Approximately 40 - 45% of all financial aid applicants are selected for verification. You will not receive any Federal financial aid or participate in work-study until you complete the verification process.

Books - Books are part of the indirect cost of school. The Financial Aid Office will assist students with direct costs only. Students must make their own arrangements to pay for books.

Enrollment Status - Students who are enrolled full time and then drop to less than full time will have their financial aid award revised or reduced.

Residency - If your residency status changes (you move from off-campus to on-campus or vice versa), then you must notify the Financial Aid Office because your financial aid award must be adjusted.

Payment of Awards - Financial aid awards for each semester will be credited to your student account for each specific term once all required paperwork is received by the Financial Aid Office.

Reapplication - Financial aid awards for the next academic year are not automatic. All recipients must reapply for aid each spring prior to the academic year of attendance by filling out the renewal FAFSA application.

Cancellation - The Financial Aid Office reserves the right to revise or cancel the award because of changes in your financial aid or academic status. The submission of false or misleading information will also be considered reason for immediate cancellation of your aid.

Condition of Award - Federal, State and Institutional grants committed in this award are conditional upon receipt of actual funds.

Balance Due - The Business Office notifies students on a semester basis of their charges and balances due. Parents and students may use the PLUS loan or one of the ten-month payment plans to satisfy outstanding balances after financial aid is applied.

Satisfactory Academic Progress for Financial Aid Eligibility

To be eligible for financial aid, a student must make satisfactory academic progress. Satisfactory academic progress includes both a qualitative measure (the use of a cumulative grade point average) and a quantitative measure (the maximum time frame for completion). Students who do not meet the requirements and are ultimately placed on financial aid suspension will no longer be eligible to receive any federal, state or institutional financial aid.

Satisfactory progress standards for financial aid eligibility are the same as the standards for academic standing.

Mars Hill College students must demonstrate their ability to perform satisfactorily both by grade point average and by hours earned. To remain enrolled in good academic standing, a student must have maintained at the end of any semester the following cumulative grade point average and earn the minimum hours listed:

Qualitative Standards:

Freshmen (1-27 hours earned)	1.50
Sophomores (28-59 hours earned)	1.80
Juniors and above (60 or more hours earned)	2.00

Quantitative Standards:

Semester Attempted Hours	Minimum Required Earned Hours
12 hours or more (full time)	12 hours
9-11 hours (3/4/ time)	9 hours
6-8 hours (1/2 time)	6 hours

A student who does not meet the minimum requirement will be placed on academic probation for the following semester. A student who fails to meet the requirements during the probationary semester will be placed on academic suspension for one regular semester. However, a student who earns a 2.0 grade point average for the probationary semester (full-time enrollment) will automatically be granted one more semester to achieve the required cumulative standard.

Students placed on academic suspension at the end of the spring semester may use the summer session to meet the minimum standards to be reinstated for the fall semester; those placed on academic probation may use the summer session to return to good standing for the fall semester.

Any student may appeal to the Admissions, Academic Standards and Financial Aid Committee by completing an official appeal form. Students who have been academically suspended may apply for readmission through the Admissions Office after one semester.

Full-Time Students

Full-time students will be allowed six academic years (one academic year begins with a summer session followed by two semesters) in which to complete the baccalaureate degree.

Part-Time Students

Part-time students will be allowed twelve academic years (one academic year begins with a summer session followed by two semesters) in which to complete the baccalaureate degree.

LifeWorks

LifeWorks Learning Partnership

Dean of LifeWorksStan Dotson

The LifeWorks Learning Partnership includes the Center for Service-Learning and Internships, the Civic Engagement Program, the Career Development Center, and the Hester Center for Peace and Justice. Staff in these three areas work together with faculty, staff, students, and community partners to make programmatic connections between

- real life experiences and the curriculum
- teaching and learning inside and outside the classroom
- academics, faith exploration, and meaningful work
- current students, prospective students, and alumni

Mars Hill students have a life. Our student body includes musicians, cloggers, actors, artists, potters, poets, athletes, advocates, activists, and others; many are engaged in community-based activities around issues of housing, health care, education, public safety, environmental protection, and government; many participate in faith communities; many hold part-time jobs. All of these activities represent essential elements of life in community and are entry points into the Mars Hill educational experience. The lives of students, their interests and activities, provide a launching pad for intentional reflection on basic liberal arts questions: What makes a good person? What are the connections between faith and critical reasoning? What makes a good community? What is the creative process, and why are all these questions important for my life and my work? LifeWorks seeks to help students deepen those experiences they are already engaged in—such as participation on an athletic team, the clogging team, or in a volunteer activity—by finding ways to bring the experiences into the curriculum, providing space and time to intentionally reflect on the experiences and utilize them to prepare for life and work in community.

Center for Service-Learning and Internships

Center DirectorStan Dotson
Assistant Center Director and
Bonner Scholars Coordinator . . . Cindy Frost
Field Coordinator Missy Harris

While LifeWorks recognizes the wide range of experiences students are already engaged in, our staff also works with faculty to design particular experiences in the community for students, from short-term projects to weekly service-learning placements to internships. Students can come by the LifeWorks office to explore the wide range of activities currently available. We have over 200 sites that cover virtually all sectors of community life: the arts, education, food and shelter, health care, the environment, public safety, sports and recreation, law and government, business, and religious life. A student can explore these opportunities on the LifeWorks website (<http://lifeworks.mhc.edu>, click on the “Service-Learning and Internships” link and then click on the “Service-Learning Database”). A student can sign up for a GE 261 service-learning internship in order to begin exploring one of these areas of community life. For students who have declared a major, most disciplines at Mars Hill offer departmental internships at 2 levels, 261 and 461. Students should talk to their departmental advisor to set up these internships. There are also professional internships in fields such as Social Work and Teacher Education. Internship forms are available on line on the LifeWorks website, and they are also available in the LifeWorks office. A student earns one semester hour of internship credit for every 37.5 contact hours (spread out over a semester, this averages out to 2.5 contact hours per week for every credit hour). A GE 261 internship may carry from 1 to 12 semester hours of credit during a regular semester; 12 is the maximum that may count toward graduation. A professional internship may carry up to 15 hours of credit; 18 is the maximum of professional internship credit which may count toward graduation. Twenty-one credit hours is the maximum internship credit of any kind that may be counted toward the bachelor's degree. For more information about service-learning and internships, come by the Center, located on the ground floor of Renfro Library, or call 689-1162.

Honor Scholars Program

Bonner Scholars Coordinator . . . Cindy Frost

The Mars Hill College Honor Scholars Program has a long history of service, leadership, and academic excellence. Scholars are expected to demonstrate these characteristics throughout their college experience. The Honor Scholars Program consists of two distinct groups: Leadership Scholars, and Bonner Scholars.

The Leadership Scholars program includes the following scholarships: Church Leadership, Grayson, Leo White, and Marshbanks-Anderson.

Participation in the Leadership Scholars program has several requirements. Each scholar must:

- 1. attend a scholar retreat prior to the beginning of the fall semester
- 2. maintain a 3.2 GPA
- 3. live on campus during the four-year college experience
- 4. complete in 35 hours of engaged service to

- the community each semester
- 5. participate in a four-year program designed to complement each student's academic, social, and personal growth while at MHC (including weekly reflection meetings during the freshman year)

Additionally, individual scholarships carry other requirements, as follows:

Church Leadership and Leo White Scholars must major or minor in Religion or Philosophy.

Bonner Scholars are required to:

- 1. attend a scholar retreat prior to the beginning of the fall semester
- 2. maintain a minimum GPA
- 3. live on campus during the four-year college experience
- 4. complete 140 hours of engaged service to the community each semester
- 5. complete 280 hours of engaged service to the community during two summers
- 6. participate in a four-year program designed to complement each student's academic, social, and personal growth while at MHC (including weekly reflection meetings during the freshman year)

The Honor Scholars program is administered by Dean of LifeWorks in consultation with the Academic Standards, Admissions, and Financial Aid Committee.

The Civic Engagement Program

Student Leadership Coordinator.... Terri Farless

The Civic Engagement Program is designed for students interested in strengthening their leadership capacity for work and service in the wider community. It is specifically helpful for scholarship students who have service-learning requirements; the Civic Engagement Program is a good way to fulfill these requirements. Students who complete the Civic Engagement program will have a portfolio demonstrating their work to add to graduate school and job applications. The program is open to all students, and anyone interested should come by the LifeWorks office to find out more about the requirements and benefits. After four years of participation, the Civic Engagement Program will certify that a graduate has:

- documented a minimum of 280 hours of community-based service (35 hours per semester)
- participated in the LifeWorks reflection activities each semester (these activities include team-building exercises, group discussions, common readings, and journaling).
- developed a portfolio with reflection essays demonstrating the connections between their community experiences, the leadership activities, and what they learned in the Commons courses.

Each semester of the Civic Engagement program focuses on a particular set of leadership skills, a knowledge base, and values for the common good.

First Year Fall semester has the theme Exploration, and accompanies the Challenges course in the Commons. At this introductory stage, the knowledge base focuses on appreciative inquiry (asking good questions); the focus of the skill set is time management, and the values focus is wonder and discovery.

Sophomore year fall semester has the theme Collaboration, and accompanies the Civic Life Course. At this stage, the knowledge base focuses on the “where am I” questions of community and region; the skill sets are assets mapping and group facilitation, and the values focus is respect.

Sophomore year spring semester has the theme Advocacy, and accompanies the Critique course. At this stage, the knowledge base focuses on the “why” questions of faith and reason; the skill set is civil dialogue, and the values focus is integrity.

The Junior year has the theme Contribution, and accompanies the Creativity course. At this stage, the knowledge base focuses on the “how” questions of the creative process; the skill set is resource development, and the values focus is enthusiasm.

The Senior year has the theme Demonstration, and accompanies the Capstone course. At this stage, the knowledge base focuses on the “what have I done” questions that synthesize the work and learning of the previous three years; the skill set is assessment and evaluation, and the values focus is confidence.

Center for Career Counseling and Advising

Director Gill Bosonetto

The Career Development Center assists students in their career decision-making process, as well as with seeking employment during and after college. Its program aims to provide students with the resources to help make informed choices, develop experience and skills in their fields of interest, and to apply their personal values, preferences and abilities towards a rewarding career path. We also help increase students’ understanding of the value and marketability of a liberal arts education in the world of work. Building meaningful networks related to job opportunities, internships and a wide variety of for-profit, non-profit, and public organizations is part of this program. Mars Hill alumni play an important role in the network.

The Career Development Center is located in the LifeWorks suite on the lower level of Renfro Library. You are invited to stop by and talk with Gill Bosonetto about your career concerns, or to log onto the career development website at <http://lifeworks.mhc.edu/career>. At this site you will be able to access information not only about our career development services, but you will be able to explore current job opportunities by clicking on either the NACELink for the Job Drawer links.

The Hester Center for Peace and Justice

Coordinating Committee:
Stan Dotson, Dean of LifeWorks
Beth Vogler, Associate Professor of Social Work
Harry Hughes, Assistant Professor of Mathematics

The Hester Center at Mars Hill College exists to create educational programming for faculty, staff, and students that promotes dialogue and deepens understanding of issues related to peace and justice. These issues involve more than the absence of armed conflict; they denote the presence of peaceful and just relationships between individuals, groups, and nations, and between human societies and the natural world. Given the broad understanding of peace and justice, the Center will sponsor programming around a four year rotating thematic emphasis:

- 2005-2006: Poverty
- 2006-2007 : Environmental Impacts
- 2007-2008: War and Peace
- 2008-2009: Ethnic and Racial Conflict

Programming for the Hester Center will include an annual book discussion, a visiting lecture series, the presentation of the Michael Emory Award, and scholarship support for a student who proposes a significant research project or experience (such as an international experience) related to the theme for the year. The Hester Center programs are open to anyone interested in fostering a greater understanding of peace and justice issues.

A generous gift to Mars Hill College by General Hugh Hester led to the endowment of the Hester Center for Peace and Justice in 1987. General Hester served under Douglas MacArthur in the Pacific theater during World War II. The dropping of the atomic bomb had a profound effect on General Hester, and he soon left the life of the military to become an activist for peace and abolition of nuclear weapons. He had a special desire for young people to learn alternatives to violence when confronted by conflicts at home and around the world. General Hester’s gift has impacted thousands of students who have participated in peacemaking programs throughout the years. For more information, contact Stan Dotson, Dean of LifeWorks.

Chaplaincy/Campus Ministry

Campus Ministry Associate Debra Huff

Mars Hill College is a liberal arts institution with Christian commitments and roots in the Baptist tradition. So, whether it’s in the classroom or on a service project, you will find that Mars Hill is a place where students are encouraged to integrate faith into their exploration of the world. The Chaplain’s Office serves as a resource in this regard. We sponsor weekly “Crossroads” services; facilitate the workings of the Christian Student Movement; provide pastoral counseling and guidance to students, faculty, and staff; and relate externally to congregations and agencies supportive of our mission. In general, we seek to facilitate the religious dialogue on campus and meet the spiritual needs of the Mars Hill family.

- crossroads: \’kros- rods\ n usu pl but sing or pl in constr a: the place of intersection of two or more roads b: a community located at such a crossroads
c: a central meeting place

Campus Ministry and the Religious Life Committee at Mars Hill define Crossroads as -

- a: the place where spiritual, intellectual, and personal growth intersect, where the faith journey meets the liberal arts, where mind, heart, soul, and strength connect
- b: The community of people-students, faculty, staff, administrators, and other friends of the college-who gather together to discover and celebrate these connections
- c: the central meeting place for experiencing these connections-Broyhill Chapel

Crossroads gatherings are held at 10:00 a.m.

in Broyhill Chapel each Tuesday that classes are in session during the semester. These services, sponsored by Campus Ministry and the Religious Life Committee, are an integral element of the religious life program on the Mars Hill College campus. Crossroads seeks to promote the spiritual and personal growth of members of the college community by reaffirming our tradition in the Christian faith and Baptist heritage; raising our awareness of how faith informs our living; making us aware of the radical relevance of the life and teachings of Christ to our everyday lives; and fostering the development of compassion, responsibility and respect.

To achieve its purpose Crossroads meets weekly providing opportunities for worship of God through scripture, prayer, music, preaching, and reflection. The programs involve students, staff, faculty, and invited guests from off campus as active participants and leaders. Likewise, the programs reflect the rich diversity of Christian expressions represented on campus.

Crossroads encompasses three kinds of gatherings you will experience in Broyhill Chapel Tuesday mornings at 10:00 a.m.-

- traditional, which includes the traditional elements of a worship service: prayers, music, scripture, preaching;
- spiritual enrichment, which emphasizes one or more of the following elements of worship: prayer, praise, testimony, music, drama, dance; and
- convocation, which includes official college events such as Founders Day and the Community Service Convocation.

The styles of music and preaching in the various gatherings will be diverse, representing the diversity in our own community, giving us all an opportunity to develop an appreciative understanding of many different forms of worship and celebration.

Other opportunities for religious life include spiritual and personal growth groups, musical ensembles, the Christian Student Movement (CSM, which offers a weekly program for fellowship and spiritual nurture), weekly praise and worship, FCA, Journey Teams (providing weekend youth ministry opportunities in local churches), dorm Bible studies, the Refuge (Bible study and coffee house), and mission opportunities - local, national, and international.

Campus Ministry also takes a leadership role in LifeWorks to promote Dreams Into Deeds, a thematic program in its sixth year at Mars Hill. Dreams Into Deeds is a campus-wide effort to make connections between faith, learning, and action around issues of critical importance in our world. Each year, Mars Hill organizes programming across campus-including Crossroads speakers, visiting artists, lecturers, and national leaders, films, workshops, and service projects-around the chosen theme.

Mars Hill College Religious Identity Statement

Mars Hill College, an academic community rooted in the Christian faith...

“Paul stood up in the midst of Mars Hill and said: ‘People of Athens, I see that you are very religious.’” - Acts 17:22

Mars Hill College is a place where faith and reason meet, where students, faculty and staff explore questions of faith reasonably in the spirit of Christ-like compassion and respect. While Mars Hill is not a church, our roots are Christian and our heritage is Baptist. We encourage students, faculty, staff, administrators, trustees and alumni in their practice and expression of faith. We honor the variety of denominations, faith traditions, worship practices, theological persuasions and spiritual disciplines represented among our constituencies.

challenges and equips students to pursue intellectual, spiritual, and personal growth...

“The most important commandment,” answered Jesus, “is this...Love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind and with all your strength.” -Mark 12:38-30

At Mars Hill, we see that developing knowledge, values, and skills are integral ways of loving God and following what Jesus called the greatest commandment. Pursuing intellectual growth--developing knowledge--is critical to loving God with all your mind. Pursuing spiritual growth--deepening values--is critical to loving God with all your heart and soul. And pursuing personal growth--strengthening skills for life and work--is critical to loving God with all your strength.

through an education that is grounded in a rigorous study of the liberal arts...

“You shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free.”-John 8:32

“Liberal arts” comes from a Latin phrase meaning the arts suitable and necessary for free people to govern themselves. The liberal arts at Mars Hill are rooted in freedom--freedom to explore critical questions of life from different perspectives in the pursuit of truth. Our Baptist heritage strongly emphasizes religious liberty, expressed as the freedom and autonomy of persons and churches in a free state. This heritage nurtures our practice of academic freedom. We recognize that any form of coercive dogmatism claiming to have the only correct version of truth, imposing that view on others, and restricting freedom of inquiry is incompatible with the way we experience the liberal arts and Christian higher education at Mars Hill.

“I urge you to live a life worthy of the calling you have received.” -Ephesians 4:1

The idea of vocation, or calling, is central to Mars Hill’s mission, God gifts people with a wide variety of abilities and interests and calls them to employ their gifts across the spectrum of professions: ministry, law, medicine, education, business, social work, etc. We want our graduates to find worthwhile work and distinguish themselves in every field by doing good (ethical work--making a life) and doing well (successful work--making a living).

and committed to character development, to service, and to responsible citizenship in the community, the region, and the world.

“There are different kinds of service...(and) varieties of working, but it is the same God who inspires them all in every one. To each is given the manifestation of the Spirit for the common good.” - I Corinthians 12:5-6

At Mars Hill, we balance the freedom inherent in a liberal arts education with responsibility. We challenge our students to become “response-able,” prepared to respond to the difficult challenges of the 21st century with core commitments and activities that serve the common good. We want our graduates to value civic engagement, to be the kind of people who live out their faith commitments in every arena and spend their lives making a positive difference in their homes, in their workplaces, in their communities, and in their world.

Mars Hill College, an academic community rooted in the Christian faith, challenges and equips students to pursue intellectual, spiritual, and personal growth that is:

- grounded in a rigorous study of the Liberal Arts,
- connected with the world of work, and
- committed to character development, to service, and to responsible citizenship in the community, the region, and the world

Mars Hill’s religious identity will never be fully answered through a simple written statement, but will continually emerge through an ongoing dialogue among members of the Mars Hill family. Based on our mission statement (above), this document was developed by the Religious Life Committee in consultation with the Church Relations Council. In addition, faculty, staff and the Board of Advisors offered feedback at various stages of its drafting. On November 7, 2003 the Board of Trustees of Mars Hill College voted to approve the use of this document to publicly communicate the religious identity of the College. It represents our best understanding of who we are, relative to our Christian roots, and it is an invitation to all members of the Mars Hill community-- alumni, trustees, faculty, staff, students and prospective students--to join us as we seek to fulfill our mission.

Academic Resources

Renfro Library

The Mars Hill College academic community promotes intellectual, spiritual, and personal growth by providing an education grounded in the liberal arts, connected with the world of work, and committed to character development. The Renfro Library facilitates the mission of the college by providing resources and services that support and enhance the programs in the five divisions and the Liberal Arts in Action general education curriculum. An integral part of the academic community, the Library selects, organizes, and provides:

- Access to material collections that are relevant to curriculum and research needs.
- Access to electronic resources and physical material not located in the Library.
- Cooperative borrowing privileges through Interlibrary Loan.
- Reciprocal agreements and consortia arrangements with other libraries and organizations.
- Instruction in the use of library resources and information literacy.

The Library maintains a highly qualified professional and paraprofessional staff that is responsive to individual needs and enables the students, faculty and staff of Mars Hill College to fully utilize all available resources necessary to support the mission of the college.

Library Services and Policies

The MHC computer network provides access to the Renfro Library catalog and direct access to encyclopedias, atlases, literary and biographical indexes and other online information sources. The network is also used to search for indexing, abstracting and full-text of journals.

Renfro Library contains approximately 84,000 books and periodical volumes, and provides in-house access to more than 300 journals and electronic access to the text of more than 10,000 journals. The library is a member of the Mountain College Library Network (MCLN), a 13-institution consortium which provides quick access to periodicals and books from each participating library. Interlibrary loan services are available through network agreements with regional and national consortia.

Library hours and other information are posted on the library's website: library.mhc.edu.

Harris Media Center

The Marleine Reader Harris Media Center is designed to serve the audiovisual needs of students and faculty. The passive solar facility includes teaching darkrooms for photography classes; a projection room for viewing films, videotapes, multi-image programs, and computer presentations; two viewing classrooms; an area for individual listening and viewing; a video studio with taping and editing facilities; and storage and maintenance facilities for audiovisual materials and equipment circulated throughout the campus.

Liston B. Ramsey Center for Regional Studies

The Liston B. Ramsey Center for Regional Studies, centrally located in Renfro Library, was named in honor of the former Speaker of the North Carolina House who passed away in 2001. An alumnus of the college, Mr. Ramsey made Mars Hill the depository for the records of his long and distinguished legislative career.

In keeping with the Speaker's commitment to Western North Carolina and to education, the Center encourages study of the college's extensive collections of photographs, sound recordings, documents, and artifacts. These materials are housed in the Appalachian Room, the Rural Life Museum, and the Heritage Cabin. Coordinated by Ms. Cassie Robinson, the Center provides support for the Regional Studies Program of the college, offers assistance with individual research, and provides a venue in which faculty, students, and community members come together for regionally oriented programs and events.

Appalachian Room

The Appalachian Room, housing non-circulating books and other resources related to the southern mountain region, represents the library's major special collection. The room provides information and materials for student and faculty use, maintains sources for local history research, and offers periodic displays of regional arts and crafts. Additional Appalachian books can be accessed through the lower stack floor and are available for circulation.

Notable among the manuscripts collection held in the Appalachian Room is the Bascom Lamar Lunsford Folk Music Collection, which includes scrapbooks, pictures, sound recordings, and other memorabilia.

Other special collections include the Southern Appalachian Photographic Archives, the Gertrude M. Ruskin Collection of Cherokee Indian artifacts and materials, Baptist records including associational minutes and church histories, and the college archives including papers relating to the history of Mars Hill College.

The Appalachian Room is open 10 a.m. - 4 p.m. Monday-Friday, and is located in the Liston B. Ramsey Center on the main floor of Renfro Library.

Rural Life Museum

The museum facilitates the collection, preservation, exhibition and interpretation of rural life artifacts relevant to the history and culture of the Southern Appalachian region. Through its exhibits and educational program the museum assists students, faculty members, and other patrons in understanding rural heritage. It is open by appointment. Contact Ms. Cassie Robinson in the Liston B. Ramsey Center for Regional Studies at (828) 689-1262.

Visiting Artists and Lecturers

Through its Visiting Artist and Lecturers Committee the College brings to the campus a variety of cultural programs to support the academic programs. In past years these have included the Vienna Choir Boys, the Chinese Golden Dragon Acrobats, the Peking Acrobats, the Atlanta Symphony, the Bulgarian Symphony, the Acting Company, the Amazing Kreskin, Broadway Shows like Big River and Buddy, the National Opera Company and the National Players, the Duke Ellington Orchestra, the Lionel Hampton Orchestra, and dance companies such as the North Carolina Dance Theater, the Ballet Folklorico de Mexico, and the Atlanta Ballet.

International Education

The college recognizes the importance of global awareness and supports academic programs that emphasize international/intercultural education. Through the Liberal Arts in Action sequence of courses, global learning and understanding will be central to the Mars Hill student's academic experience. In addition, all Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Music, and Bachelor of Fine Arts majors are required to take two semesters of a foreign language.

The Center for International Education was established to provide leadership and coherence to the international programs on campus. The college has an active International Club, hosts lectures and other cultural events dealing with global issues, and celebrates international diversity with an annual International Festival. Foreign students are valued highly at the college and international student orientation and advising are important responsibilities of the Director of International Education.

The college also offers the International Studies major. Through an interdisciplinary approach, students take courses in a wide range of fields. Moreover, the college offers over 60 courses of an international nature in many different disciplines.

Study Abroad

Mars Hill College values study abroad as an important element of a student's international education. Through a variety of programs, students can find ample options to study, work or participate in service learning/volunteer projects in virtually all areas of the world. Mars Hill sponsors several international study opportunities for credit, including Mars Hill in Mexico, a study tour of Chiapas, Mexico; and Mars Hill in Italia, a summer program in Pirugia, Italy. Faculty have also led trips to Europe, Asia, and Latin America.

In addition to these programs, Mars Hill maintains several affiliations with other institutions and consortia that provide semester, year-long, and short term study abroad opportunities. Through the International Student Exchange Program (ISEP), students can study at more than 100 universities on 5 continents. Mars Hill is the only private NC member school of ISEP, the largest student exchange program of its kind. Students also can participate in the Semester in London program, managed by a consortium of Appalachian colleges. Scholarships are available for this program through the Appalachian College Association. Mars Hill maintains active affiliations with the Borderlinks Semester on the Border program located in Tucson, AZ, and Nogales, Mexico; Regents College in London; and other providers. It is also possible for students to register directly with other U.S. or foreign programs and transfer both elective and required credits back to the college. Director of International Education is Gordon Hinners.

Student Support Services Program

The Student Support Services TRIO Program can provide tutoring for a difficult course, help reduce test anxiety, suggest wise time management strategies, offer academic advising, and provide career and personal counseling, among other services. This program provides trained staff members and carefully selected peers to work with students who qualify for services. Interested students who are not certain of their eligibility for the program or who wish to learn more about the services and activities should call 689-1380 or come by the Student Support Services office, located on the first floor of Marshbanks Hall. The office is open Monday through Friday from 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and Tuesday/Thursday, 6:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m. Services are tailored to individual needs and are free to eligible students. The program is 100% funded through a grant from the U.S. Department of Education.

Computer Resources

Mars Hill ranks among the highest of North Carolina campuses with its computer:student ratio of 1:5. More than 212 computers are available for student use on the campus. The campus features a computer network which may be accessed both on and off campus. Students with computers can access the network 24 hours a day. The network provides students, faculty, and staff with access to campus information, electronic mail, the library catalog, research databases, and the Internet. All college e-mail addresses end in @mhc.edu. The college's homepage address is: www.mhc.edu.

Asheville Area Educational Consortium

The Asheville Area Educational Consortium is a consortium of Mars Hill College, University of North Carolina at Asheville, and Warren Wilson College for the purpose of enriching the educational experience of students at the participating institutions. This affords students access to broader educational experiences through inter-institutional cross-registration, which enables a student at any member institution to enroll in courses at any of the member institutions without separate admission procedures or incurring registration fees at the other institution. Registration is on a space-available basis and is handled through the registrar's offices of the institutions.

Academic Policies

Academic Orientation and Advising

Incoming new students participate in Gateway Orientation, administered jointly through the Office of Student Life and the Admissions. A special orientation is done for International students through the Office of the Coordinator of International Education. The student's faculty advisor offers counsel in planning an academic program and in selecting appropriate learning experiences. The individual student is ultimately responsible for fulfilling all requirements for the degree. Completion of requirements and eligibility for graduation is certified by the registrar's office; therefore, special questions and/or matters of interpretation should be addressed to personnel in that office.

A college course, LAA 111-Challenges, is used to introduce students to the educational program of the college and to related services and resources. Through LAA 111 each incoming freshman becomes part of a small group of other freshmen and an advising team composed of a faculty member and an upperclassman. The team works with the freshman group during orientation and throughout the semester. For several days during orientation before classes begin, the advising team holds a series of seminars to help establish a primary reference group for each incoming student, to allow time for explanation of the curriculum, and to orient freshmen to the college.

The Academic Placement Tests (APT), a series of tests in mathematics, writing, reading, and modern foreign languages, may be used to assess the basic skills level of incoming students. Using the results of the APT and other information obtained in the seminars, an advisor will meet with each freshman for a personal conference to plan the academic schedule for the coming semester. Students may be required to take one or more developmental courses (ED 101, ENG 100, ENG 101, MTH 101) if the APT scores are below the required standards.

Students for whom English is a second language will register for ENG 100. Other students will be placed in ENG 101, ENG 111, or ENG 113 based upon their high school records, their standardized test scores, and the results of the APT. Students who place into ENG 111 and have transfer or advanced placement credit for English will register for ENG 112. All students must register for appropriate 100-level ENG courses until the College Composition Connector component of the General Education Curriculum has been satisfactorily completed and may not withdraw from these courses. Any student who does withdraw from the appropriate 100-level ENG course before the College Composition Connector has been satisfactorily completed will have his/her schedule cancelled.

In the advising process, each student is ultimately responsible for choosing a course of study and fulfilling its requirements as set forth by the college. Other sub-sections on "General Academic Information" and the section on "Majors" in this catalog provide essential information about educational requirements and options which students should carefully read.

The Academic Major/Minor

By the end of the freshman year, each student should choose a major. Because the requirements for a major vary according to each department, the specific requirements are outlined in the descriptions of the academic departments and majors later in this catalog. Minors may also be chosen. To receive a minor at Mars Hill College a transfer student must complete a minimum of 6 hours in the minor at Mars Hill College.

Credit-hour guidelines for majors and minors are as follows:

Minimum, all majors:	30 hours
Maximum, liberal arts majors:	48 hours
Maximum, all professional majors:	64 hours
Minimum, all minors:	18 hours
Maximum, all minors:	24 hours

Note:
"Hours" in the major/minor are defined as all credits earned within the major or minor department, plus credits from courses outside the department that are required in the major or minor and cannot be counted as part of General Education (excludes Professional Education requirements).

Change of Faculty Advisor or Major

To ensure timely progress toward completing degree requirements, students should declare a major or area of interest during their second semester of enrollment. Freshmen will be advised for second semester classes by their LAA 111 instructor; then will be assigned to a major advisor. All major and/or advisor change forms must be turned in to the registrar's office during early registration weeks.

Academic Calendar and Credit

The college operates on a school year divided into three major segments: a fall semester which runs from late August to mid-December; a spring semester which runs from early January to mid-May; and a summer session of two five-week terms in June, July and August. All courses are based on semester hours credit.

Acceptance of Credit

Mars Hill College will accept for credit those courses completed at regionally accredited undergraduate two- and four-year institutions or from other institutions when appropriate documentation is provided. Students transferring 68 or more credits from two-year institutions must earn a minimum of 60 additional semester hours at four-year institutions. The last 32 semester hours and a minimum of 12 hours in the major must be earned at Mars Hill.

Courses submitted for transfer credit are evaluated by the Registrar's Office in consultation with the appropriate department chairpersons. Courses to satisfy general education and major requirements are evaluated individually. Students transferring with the core general education requirements in a college transfer program from a North Carolina community college will receive credit for most general education requirements. (See Admissions section for more information on transfer credit).

Special Kinds of Academic Credit

Mars Hill College provides for College Level Examination Program (CLEP) credit, Credit by Examination, and Advanced Placement credit in accordance with the following policies:

1. Three semester hours of CLEP credit will be awarded for a score of at least 500 on each of the general examinations. Students who earn the score recommended by the Council on College-Level Examinations on one of the subject examinations will be awarded three semester hours of credit.
2. Credit for Reflective Life Experience may be awarded to students on the basis of their participation in learning experiences that were outside of formal academic settings. Adults and younger, resident college students may achieve such credit if their experiences can be verified in relation to stated requirements. Applications for Reflective Life Experience credit are made as part of the LAA 101 class for adults and as part of half-day workshops scheduled in the fall and spring terms for resident students. The maximum credit for Reflective Life Experience is 9 semester hours.

3. Credit by Examination is awarded to students who test out of certain courses or competencies. This includes both CLEP and other tests designed by the college. The maximum credit awarded is 15 semester hours. The department chairperson will make final determination of the exact amount of credit. Application is made through the appropriate academic department.
4. The college participates in the Advanced Placement Program of the College Entrance Examination Board. Freshmen who have demonstrated their achievement of specific placement tests may submit their scores to the Registrar's Office. Those achieving a score of three (3) or better will be granted course credit and advanced placement in the area of their proficiency.
5. Mars Hill College accepts the International Baccalaureate Degree for secondary certification and awards advanced placement credit.
6. Three semester hours of Physical Education Credits (PE 101- Foundation of Physical Education-3 semester hours) will be given for basic military training upon the submission of the student's DD 214.

Tuition is charged for academic credit obtained by items 2 and 3 above. The current rate may be ascertained in the Business Office or in the Financial Information section of this catalog.

Academic Load and Overload Policy

A normal full-time academic course load is 12 to 20 semester hours. The maximum number of hours a student may carry in a regular semester without paying extra is 20 (exclusive of applied music and varsity athletics courses); in a five-week summer term, 9.

Any student who wishes to take more than 20 hours in a regular semester or 9 hours in a five-week summer term must have a GPA of 3.0, based on at least 12 credit hours in the previous semester, regardless of classification.

The fee charged per overload credit hour is stated in the financial section of this catalog. Applied music courses (for which fees are already charged) and varsity athletics are excluded from overload fees.

No student is permitted to take more than 23 hours in a single semester under any circumstances.

Appeals of the GPA requirement must be approved by the student's advisor. Students having approval to take work at another institution while enrolled at Mars Hill College must keep their total course load within these stated limits.

Registration and Schedule Changes

Courses are offered on a semester basis with schedules published in October and March for the following semesters. Early registration with advisors is held for continuing students during the fall and spring semesters. Continuing students who do not register at early registration may register with new students at the beginning of each semester. No student may attend class unless cleared by the Business Office and officially registered. During the registration period at the beginning of a term a student may, with advisor's authorization, change from one course to another, add or drop a course without any entry being made on his/her permanent record. The final date of the initial registration period is five class days for regular semesters and two regular class days for summer school. A student desiring to change his/her schedule should meet with his/her advisor during the drop/add period. Normally, no course may be added after the initial registration period for adding courses; however, exceptions may be made with the approval of the instructor and the registrar. Any instructor may refuse to accept a student after the initial registration period if, in his/her judgment, too much subject matter has already been covered.

Withdrawal from a Course

During the first 20 days of classes (2 weeks for ACCESS short-term classes; five days of classes for summer sessions), a student is allowed to drop a course, with advisor's authorization, without any entry being made on the permanent record. All courses for which the student is registered at the end of this withdrawal period are considered courses attempted. Any student who withdraws from a course after the last day to withdraw will receive the grade "F."

After the designated drop period, a student, who completes the official withdrawal procedure, may be permitted to drop a course due to exceptional circumstances such as medical or other serious personal problems. The grade for approved withdrawals will be "W"; however, special circumstances may make the student eligible for a grade of "incomplete," but only with the permission of the instructor.

No student living in a college residence hall may take fewer than 12 semester hours except with special permission from the dean of students and the registrar.

Withdrawal from the College

To withdraw officially from the college, a student must follow a specific withdrawal procedure which is initiated in the Student Life Office or Admissions Office (ACCESS Office for ACCESS students). Withdrawals after the last day of the designated drop period will result in grades of "F" for all classes, unless the withdrawal is approved for grades of "W" for medical reasons or other extenuating circumstances. Medical withdrawals must be approved by the Manager of medical services and/or the Director of Counseling. Withdrawals for other extenuating circumstances must be approved by the chief academic officer (ACCESS students' withdrawals must be approved by both the Dean or Associate Dean of ACCESS and by the chief academic officer.) Further information on the withdrawal process is listed in the Student Handbook. Please refer to the financial section of this catalog for fiscal responsibilities when withdrawing.

Auditing a Course

Individuals not enrolled at Mars Hill College who wish to audit a course must: 1) complete an application for audit, 2) obtain approval from the Registrar, 3) obtain approval from the instructor when so advised, and 4) pay the audit fee. Enrolled full-time students may audit one course per term without additional charge providing approval is obtained from the academic advisor and instructor concerned. Audited courses are not reflected on the academic transcript.

Evaluation, Grading, and Transcripts

A student's academic transcript is considered the permanent academic record and consists of directory information—name, address, identification number, social security number, graduation date, degree, major(s), minor(s); and the complete academic record including transfer credits.

Records of progress are kept on veteran and non-veteran students alike. Semester grade reports are available on-line through IQ.Web. Mid-semester, unsatisfactory grades are available on-line through IQ.Web.

The basic unit of credit is the semester hour. Typically, a semester hour represents a minimum of one lecture hour or two laboratory hours a week for a semester. Internship credit is awarded on the basis of 37.5 contact hours per credit hour.

Two grading systems are employed to indicate levels of student performance in courses. One is the traditional A-F system, as follows:

A - excellent; B - good; C - acceptable; D - poor (although a passing grade, may not be used to satisfy a general education, major or minor requirement); and F - failure.

The second grading system is as follows: S - satisfactory; U - unsatisfactory. (Further details follow in this section.)

The meanings of other final grades are as follows: CE - credit by examination; I - incomplete; W - withdrawal.

Grade Point Calculation

The college seeks to encourage its students in the quality – as well as the quantity – of their work through a grade point system. The following grade points will be assigned for each letter grade: A = 4; A minus = 3.7; B plus = 3.3; B = 3; B minus = 2.7; C plus = 2.3; C = 2; C minus = 1.7; D = 1; F = 0. For example, if a student receives a final grade of B in a course that carries three semester hours credit, he/she is awarded 9 quality points. The grade point average is computed by dividing the total quality points on hours earned by the number of hours attempted, except for courses with grades of CE, CR, W, S, and U; and those excluded under the Repeat Course Policy.

To be eligible for graduation, students must (1) complete a minimum of 128 hours (with the last 32 hours at Mars Hill), (2) complete all requirements for a degree program, and (3) have a cumulative GPA of 2.0. The cumulative GPA will be used for financial aid standards of progress, for graduation honors, and for computation of academic standing for probation and suspension.

Any student who withdraws from a course after the initial registration and adjustment period and the specified period for withdrawing from a course will receive the grade of “F” unless approved for other grade by the chief academic officer.

Incomplete Grades

A grade of “I” is a temporary grade and will automatically be changed to an “F” by the Registrar at the end of the drop period in the semester following the semester in which the “Incomplete” grade was given, unless the instructor replaces it with a grade. The instructor may shorten or lengthen the time permitted for making up an Incomplete. The instructor may grant an extension for an Incomplete for one semester by completing an Extension Card in the registrar’s office.

Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory Grading

Each student is permitted to identify four elective courses (outside general education, major, or minor requirements) during the junior and senior years, to be taken on an S/U basis. These are limited to one per semester. In addition, certain courses designated by the departments are graded on an S/U basis rather than on the traditional ABCDF scale. An S indicates that the student has demonstrated a level of mastery in course skills and knowledge that has been established by the instructor as meeting the criteria for competence (i.e. a level of A,B, or C). In some cases the student must demonstrate a higher level of proficiency in order to earn a grade of S. A grade of U indicates that the student has failed to meet the criteria for competency. No quality points are awarded for grades of S/U, nor are the hours included in the calculation of the grade point average.

Academic Honors

Honors for graduation programs will be based on Mars Hill College credits only, and will be calculated on a student’s academic record at the end of the semester prior to the graduation semester. To be eligible for graduation with honors, a student must have completed at least 60 semester hours at Mars Hill College by the end of the semester prior to the graduation semester. The student’s final transcript will indicate the actual honors earned based on the final MHC grade point average.

The diploma of a student who has a cumulative MHC grade point average of 3.50 is inscribed “cum laude”; the diploma of a student who has a grade point average of 3.70 is inscribed “magna cum laude”; and the diploma of a student who has a grade point average of 3.90 is inscribed “summa cum laude.”

Regular students who earn a grade point average of 3.50 on a minimum of 12 semester hours and no grade below C are included on the Dean’s list at the end of the semester.

Membership in the campus chapter of Alpha Chi National Honor Scholarship Society is based primarily on grades. The chapter, designated as the North Carolina Epsilon Chapter, is open to juniors and seniors in the top five percent of their class who have a grade point average of not less than 3.50.

ACCESS honor students are eligible for membership in Mu Kappa Lambda , a chapter of Alpha Sigma Lambda. Alpha Sigma Lambda recognizes adult students in continuing higher education who achieve academic excellence, while managing responsibilities to family, work and the community.

Repeat Course Policy

Courses in which a student has earned a grade of D, F, U, or W may be repeated. The grade and hours for each attempt will be recorded but the grade and hours for the last attempt will be used to calculate earned hours and the grade point average (gpa). A student may not repeat a course for which he/she has a grade of C- or better.

Academic Probation/Suspension

Mars Hill College students must demonstrate their ability to perform satisfactorily both by grade point average and by hours earned. To remain enrolled in good academic standing, a student must have maintained at the end of any semester the following cumulative grade point average and earn the minimum hours listed:

Qualitative Standards

Freshmen (fewer than 28 hours earned)	1.50
Sophomores (28-59 hours earned)	1.80
Juniors and above (60 or more hours earned)	2.00

Quantitative Standards

Semester Attempted Hours	Min. Required Earned Hours
12 hours or more (full-time)	12 hours
9-11 hours (3/4 time)	9 hours
6-8 hours (1/2 time)	6 hours

A student who does not meet the minimum requirement will be placed on academic probation for the following semester. A student who fails to meet the requirements during the probationary semester will be placed on academic suspension for one regular semester. However, a student who earns a 2.0 grade point average for the probationary semester (full-time enrollment) will automatically be granted one more semester to achieve the required cumulative standard.

Students placed on academic suspension at the end of the spring semester may use the summer session to meet the minimum standards to be reinstated for the fall semester; those placed on academic probation may use the summer session to return to good standing for the fall semester.

Any student may appeal to the Admissions, Academic Standards and Financial Aid Committee.

Students who have been academically

Readmission After Academic Suspension

Students who leave Mars Hill College while on academic probation or who have been suspended for academic reasons, will only be accepted for readmission if they have attended another accredited institution and raised their cumulative grade point average to that required for academic good standing for their classification upon readmission.

In exceptional cases, the Admissions, Academic Standards and Financial Aid Committee may vote to readmit a student who does not qualify under the previous conditions, if, and only if, 1) it is possible for the student to attain good standing within one semester of readmission without taking an overload and 2) the student’s previous academic record at Mars Hill College gives strong indication that the requisite grades to attain good standing will be attained.

In no case will a student suspended for academic reasons from Mars Hill College be readmitted to the College more than three times.

Class Attendance

A student should recognize that one of the most vital aspects of a residential college experience is attendance and punctuality in the classroom and that the value of this academic experience cannot be fully measured by testing procedures alone. The effect of absences upon grades is determined by the instructor. Arranging to make up work missed because of legitimate class absence is the responsibility of the student, who takes full responsibility for attending classes and is accountable to his/her instructor for all work. The consequence of failure to assume this responsibility must be accepted by the student.

The number of absences permitted in each class is determined by the academic department concerned in accordance with the following principles:

- 1. That the number of absences permitted be set realistically to provide students an opportunity to participate in extracurricular activities;
- 2. That each instructor distribute a course syllabus including the absence policy within the first week of class.
- 3. That faculty maintain attendance rosters and report excessive absences to the retention office. For relation to financial aid see “Refund Policy for Federal Aid Recipients.”

Change of Grade

Once reported to the registrar, all grades become part of the permanent record. A grade may not be changed unless it is a clerical error or has been miscalculated by the professor. Under no circumstances will a letter grade (other than I) be changed after it has been reported to the registrar, without approval from the chief academic officer. An appeal for a grade change or a challenge to the academic record must be made before the end of the semester following the term in which the challenged grade was received.

Classification of Students

Requirements for classification of students are as follows:

- 28 hours earned to be classified as a sophomore
- 60 hours: junior
- 90 hours: senior

Persons who meet entrance requirements and are taking college courses for credit but with no intent to earn a degree are designated as “Unclassified Students.”

Graduation and Residence Requirements

To participate in the Commencement ceremony, a student must have completed all requirements for a degree. Students completing requirements in May will be allowed to participate in May commencement. Those completing requirements in August or December will be allowed to participate in the December commencement.

The academic program which leads to a degree is composed of related parts: general education, the major, and electives. Courses taken as electives may be in the student’s major, in related disciplines, or in other areas of special interest. A maximum of nine semester hours of credit for developmental courses (ED 101, ENG 100, ENG 101, MTH 101) may be applied toward graduation as electives.

To receive a degree from Mars Hill College, a student must complete the general education and major requirements specified in the student’s catalog of entry and earn a minimum of 128 semester hours of credit. Sixty credit hours must be earned at a senior level institution. The last 32 credit hours and a minimum of 12 hours in the major must be earned at Mars Hill.

The student must earn a cumulative grade point average of 2.00 for all courses attempted excluding those taken on an S/U basis and those for which the repeat course policy was applied.

Generally a student’s catalog of entry is considered his/her catalog for general education, major, and minor requirements as long as he/she is continuously enrolled full-time. However, when significant general education, major, or minor requirements change, the student may be required (or may choose) to complete the requirements, with appropriate substitutions, in a subsequent catalog. Full-time or part-time students not completing a degree within six years may be required to complete current requirements. When Mars Hill College students have earned 90 semester hours of credit, they are classified as seniors and must apply for graduation with the Registrar’s Office. They will then receive an academic audit, which will outline remaining course requirements for degree completion. It is required that the student then have a meeting with the Assistant Registrar to determine graduation eligibility. After the meeting it is the student’s responsibility to notify the Assistant Registrar of any changes in his/her academic plan.

Substitutions

Substitutions of required courses, other degree requirements, and academic regulations may be made only with adequate cause. Substitutions in major requirements established by an academic department must be approved by the department chairperson. Substitutions in college-wide regulations and requirements must be approved by the chief academic officer. All requests must be submitted in writing to the appropriate person for approval and forwarded to the Registrar. Course substitution requests related to disabilities accommodation should be submitted in writing to the Committee on Disabilities. Approved requests become part of the student’s academic file in the Registrar’s Office.

Independent Study/Directed Readings

There are opportunities in most academic departments for students to engage in independent study, research, seminars, and directed readings. Such opportunities are open to all students in accordance with policies established by the Curriculum Committee. Students who wish to receive credit for work in independent study must submit a proposal to the Curriculum Committee by the date published in the academic year calendar. The proposal must be signed by the faculty member directing the study and by the department chairperson. The Curriculum Committee will promptly notify the student and supervising faculty member if credit for the study is approved. Independent study is defined as a program of study designed by a student and faculty member to achieve mutually agreed objectives. An independent study program may not be substituted for a regular course requirement. At times, a faculty member may offer a regular course by working individually with a student. In this case Curriculum Committee approval is not required.

Directed reading programs of study are approved at the department level and should not be referred to the Curriculum Committee. Students wishing to pursue directed reading programs should contact a faculty member, department chairperson, or program coordinator.

Independent study and directed reading projects are designed to allow students to engage in research or study not available in regularly scheduled courses or to pursue in greater depth a subject of interest to which the student was introduced during a regular course. Students approved for independent study and directed readings are deemed capable of showing the creativity and independence that such subjects are intended to encourage; however, all independent study and directed reading projects are supervised by faculty, always involve regular periodic meetings between the student and the faculty supervisor, result in a product of some kind, and are graded by the faculty supervisor according to evaluative criteria stated at the beginning of the project.

The maximum credit which may be earned for internships and practica, directed reading programs, and independent study is 24 semester hours with separate maximums as follows: internships and practica, 21; directed reading programs, 6; independent study, 6. Departments may set lower maximums. Approved exceptions may be found in the departmental sections of this catalog.

Summer School

The summer session constitutes an important segment of the total college program. In the past, three sessions have been scheduled each summer, two 5-week terms and an overlapping 10-week term. Classes are scheduled during the day and evening, and admission requirements are generally the same as those for the regular terms. The same academic standards are maintained, and the credits earned are of equal value. The regular faculty and staff of the college serve during the summer, supplemented by visiting instructors and specialists. All of the facilities of the college are available during the summer, including tennis courts.

A student who registers for 12 semester hours in summer school is considered full time (half time is 6 semester hours). A maximum of 18 semester hours credit may be earned in summer school.

The list of courses to be offered during the summer session is determined primarily by the needs and requests of the students. It is published sufficiently early in the spring semester to give students ample time to plan for the summer. In addition to the wide choice of regular courses the summer session is enriched by numerous workshops, institutes, and special conferences held on campus. Summer is a good time for freshmen to begin college. Classes are small, and tuition is less than during the regular school year.

The setting of the college in the mountains contributes to the attractiveness of the summer session. The moderate daytime temperatures and cool nights, plus the scenic beauty, make summer time study unusually pleasant. Opportunities to visit nearby scenic attractions and to take advantage of recreational and cultural events both on and off campus enhance the summer as a time to combine vacation and study.

Permission to Take a Course at Another Institution

After enrolling at Mars Hill, any student wishing to take a course from another institution and transfer the credit to Mars Hill must secure permission from the registrar prior to taking the course.

The student must submit the following to the office of the registrar:

1. The name of the institution which will be attended and the dates.
2. The courses, course numbers and descriptions of the courses to be taken
3. If a course is to be used to satisfy a major requirement, a statement of approval from the major department chairman.
4. An explanation of the reason(s) for attending the institution.

The registrar shall grant approval if, in her judgment, the proposed action is justifiable, the student has obtained the necessary approvals, and the student is not a senior.

If the student is classified as a senior, the registrar will make a decision in consultation with the chief academic officer. The student must obtain permission from the chief academic officer if in the last 32 hours.

Confidentiality of Student Records

Access to most student records is limited by federal regulations, which are incorporated into the college's official statement on the confidentiality of student records. This policy is included in the Student Handbook and on the Mars Hill College web page.

College Honor Code and Policy on Plagiarism

Honor Code

We, the students for Mars Hill College, pledge ourselves to uphold integrity, honesty, and academic responsibility in and out of the classroom.

Honor Pledge

On my honor, I have neither given nor received any academic aid or information that would violate the Honor Code of Mars Hill College.

Mars Hill students are expected to know how to recognize and avoid plagiarism. Plagiarism is presenting other people's work as your own. Using another person's idea, words, or work is theft, just as surely as is the theft of a car, CD player, or other tangible property. As members of the academic community, students must be mindful of other people's property. Failure to respect such property rights is considered a serious and punishable violation of the Mars Hill College Honor Code.

Plagiarism is:

- Presenting someone else's idea but not giving credit for it (implying the idea is yours).
- Presenting someone else's words without giving credit.
- Submitting any work which was done by someone else (including another student) and claiming it is your own work. Examples: lab reports and computer assignments.

A student who plagiarizes an assignment is violating the Honor Code. Penalties for violations are determined by the Honor Council or by the instructor of the course in which the incident occurred and range from a zero on the assignment up to and including suspension from the college.

The Honor Council consists of ten members (six students and four faculty representatives, with the Director of Judicial and Leadership Programs as a non-voting member) and is responsible for enforcement of the Honor Code. Refer to the Student Handbook for a full description of the Honor Council and the procedure governing hearings.

Types of Honor Code Violations

Cheating - plagiarism, cheat sheets, handing in someone else's work as one's own—for example: material from the Internet, helping someone in class in a manner that is considered cheating, giving or receiving any information that is prohibited.

Lying - lying about any offense under the Honor Code and Honor Pledge.

Stealing - only in those violations that are not covered by the Student Code of Conduct.

Academic Appeals

When a judgment is made which a student believes to be unfair or unfounded, he/she may appeal that decision. The statement of a grievance and the appeal of a decision should follow procedures that encourage fairness, civility, and responsible citizenship and should not infringe upon the rights of either students or instructors.

The general procedure for making an appeal is as follows:

- Step 1 At least one conference must take place between the student and the instructor.
- Step 2 The student and the instructor must meet in the presence of the instructor's supervisor. If this conversation does not resolve the problem, the case should be clearly stated and the supervisor will make a ruling which will be presented in writing to the student and instructor.

- Step 3 If the ruling is unacceptable to either party, one opportunity for a formal appeal remains. The appeal must be initiated in writing by the middle of the semester following the alleged violation. The appeal must specify the charge, summarize the evidence, and request a hearing. At the hearing, both sides must be present and be given an opportunity to present their arguments. Appeals will be submitted to the Committee on Admissions and Academic Standards and Financial Aid, unless the president of the college appoints a special hearing board. The president of the college will participate with the committee in hearing the appeal. A final appeal is heard by only one committee or special board and the decision is final and binding.

For details, consult the Mars Hill College Student Handbook, Section 4.6 Academic Appeals Procedure.

Liberal Arts in Action: General Studies at MHC

Mars Hill College, an academic community rooted in the Christian faith, challenges and equips students to pursue intellectual, spiritual and personal growth through an education that is

- grounded in a rigorous study of the liberal arts;
- connected with the world of work; and
- committed to character development, service and responsible citizenship in the community, region, and the world.

For the ancient Greeks and Romans, the liberal arts were the skills that free peoples needed to govern themselves, e.g., how to think critically, how to speak clearly, and how to build civil relationships for civil society.

For the early European universities, the liberal arts meant gaining competence in the “trivium” (grammar, rhetoric, logic) and the “quadrivium” (arithmetic, geometry, music, and astronomy). Philosophy was seen as feeding and nurturing all of the seven liberal arts.

For liberal arts colleges today, the liberal arts refer both to content areas (math, science, humanities, arts) and to skill areas (critical & creative thinking, speaking, reading, writing, and doing art & science). Liberally educated persons ask good questions, don’t stop at the first answer, and contribute responsibly to their world.

At Mars Hill College, the liberal arts curriculum has three parts:

Liberal Arts in Action (LAA) Commons: exploring central human questions;

The major, providing depth in a field of study; &

The LAA Connectors plus electives, and providing breadth of study.

Mars Hill College offers students a well-rounded, total education, the essence of a liberal arts college. Through the general education program we help students acquire the abilities and knowledge needed to be responsible and successful in their lives and to continue the life-long learning that the twenty-first century will demand of them. In the general education program students explore many fields of study essential to a liberal arts education and that provide a sound foundation for a major. We recognize that work in the majors is also an essential part of a college education. We expect our students to acquire the level of knowledge and ability needed to enter a vocation related to their major and to pursue graduate studies.

Students in most majors may take as many as one-third of the course hours required for graduation (a total of 128 semester hours) from areas outside the major and the general education program. A few majors, however, have requirements that decrease the number of elective hours. Students may use their elective hours to meet the requirements of a second major or one or more minors, or to broaden even further their total education.

We believe that activities outside of class should support the goals of general and specialized education. Many such activities complement and enrich classroom studies. They also lead to individual growth and development in being responsible and accountable, setting priorities, developing leadership, expressing creativity, and serving people with special needs. The LifeWorks program, described elsewhere in the catalog, gives form and substance to these dimensions of student learning.

The heart of our educational programs is the Mars Hill College faculty. All faculty members are well-trained in their respective fields and skilled in the art of teaching. They continue to learn through summer study, sabbaticals, research, and individual study. A number of faculty members conduct noteworthy research, but the primary concern of the faculty at Mars Hill is leading students to be disciplined and effective learners.

The Place

Community is the term that best describes the learning environment at Mars Hill College. The environment in which Mars Hill students learn is warm, supportive, accepting, and caring - characteristics that have grown out of our Christian heritage.

Community, however, means more at Mars Hill than friendliness and caring. The term also implies expectations and responsible behavior of all the members of the community. Community is a reality only to the extent that all members are committed to maintaining high moral and academic standards, treating other members of the community with respect, serving one another unselfishly, and actively participating in college life.

The Honor Code, which was written and approved by the Student Government Association 1999-2000, is one example of a student initiative to build trust among members of the college community and to encourage a sense of responsibility and integrity.

The Purpose

The purpose of the General Education program, Liberal Arts in Action, is to assist Mars Hill College students to learn to apply the breadth of the Liberal Arts in a practical way:

- To one’s vocation (preparing them to make a living, i.e., to do well, equipping them with knowledge, skills, and values that can be transferred across the job market), and
- To life (preparing students to make a life, i.e., to do good, equipping them with knowledge, skills, and values that can be transferred across a wide range of life situations).

Applying the Breadth of the Liberal Arts:

Practical Ways of Knowing

In order to solve the problems and meet the challenges facing us in the new millennium, we must cultivate the ability to see potential solutions from a variety of perspectives. We need to be able to see the world, its problems and its potential, through a variety of “lenses.” Many of the issues of life and work in the 21st century are in a broad sense the same issues humankind has been wrestling with throughout the ages: issues involving health and well-being, the environment, and the complexities of human relationships. The important questions surrounding these issues are still the age-old questions: What is real? What is true? What is beautiful and good? Those who seek to answer such questions relative to the challenges of the 21st century will need to employ a breadth of skill and a depth of understanding in order to reach both individual achievement and the good of humanity on the regional, national, and global levels.

The Liberal Arts in Action approach enables students to understand themselves and the world through various lenses, that is, through various ways of knowing. Students explore questions of reality, beauty, and truth through empirical, symbolic, and narrative inquiry. Through empirical inquiry, students explore these questions through the lens of deductive and inductive reasoning. Through symbolic inquiry, students explore the questions through the lens of creative thinking and expression. Through narrative inquiry, students explore the questions through the lens of critical analysis and interpretation of texts. Through a rigorous study in these multiple ways of knowing and modes of inquiry, students gain a body of knowledge in a variety of disciplines and gain valuable experience in how to apply this knowledge for personal growth, career development, and the common good. They also discover the meaning and joy of learning.

Applying the Liberal Arts to Vocation:

Preparing Students to Make a Living, to Do Well

Today's college graduates will face a workplace experiencing rapid change. Leaders in education, business, government, and non-profit work note that one example of rapid change involves the constantly changing job market. Today's graduates will likely change jobs several times before they retire, and therefore will be required to be life-long learners, acquiring new skills and abilities in order to succeed in changing workplaces. In order to be successful, they will need to be flexible and pro-active, equipped with a body of knowledge and skills that can be transferred from one setting to another.

Another example of radical and rapid change involves the complexities brought on by the information revolution. Today's college graduate must be able to negotiate ever-changing technology in order to analyze, evaluate, synthesize, and interpret complex data generated by the information age. The skill sets and the body of knowledge gained from the Liberal Arts in Action will enable students to exercise powers of discernment, weighing competing claims present in the mass of information, as they seek to make reasoned choices and responsible decisions.

A third change involves the radical shift in demographics taking place in this country and the world. The ability to work with a diverse group of people in and out of the workplace is a necessity today as never before. Liberal Arts in Action will lead to an appreciative and respectful understanding of diverse cultures, helping students meet this challenge. In addition, effective communication skills, including the skills of active listening, speaking and writing, are critical to the building of strong teams of diverse people who work together to solve problems and meet the challenges of the workplace.

Applying the Liberal Arts to Life:

Preparing Students to Make a Life, to Do Good

A practical approach to the Liberal Arts will assist the individual student in his or her spiritual, personal, and intellectual growth in an ever-changing world. Development of the self is the hallmark of a Liberal Arts education. An education for life will empower the student to become an active and effective member of a rapidly changing community.

One of these changes involves the growing cultural, ethnic, and religious pluralism in American society. Such pluralism raises new questions and forces us to expand the conversation regarding major questions of human existence: meaning and purpose, ethics and morality, and one's relationship with the natural world, with others, and with God.

Another major change involves the growing disparity between rich and poor both in the United States and in the world. A growing realization of this gap makes the ability to reach common understandings of character, service, and responsible citizenship more challenging in the new millennium.

A third major change affecting community is the increasing reorganization of family systems and the fragmentation of community. A liberal arts graduate needs to be able to negotiate and contribute to both family and community in these shifting contexts.

Liberal Arts in Action will be cognizant of these changes. The skill sets required through Liberal Arts in Action will include creative and critical thinking, inquiry and research, and communication. These will enable students to explore these major questions of life in community. The body of knowledge gained, along with practical applications in real life settings, should empower the Mars Hill graduate to re-define and embody deep commitments to both individual virtue (character development) and social ethics (responsible citizenship) in service to a rapidly changing community, region, and world.

The Curriculum

It is essential that all students pay careful attention to the specific academic requirements that pertain to them, for it is ultimately the responsibility of each student to meet the stated requirements. Sound, helpful counseling and advice are available through the faculty advisor, the registrar, the school deans, and other college personnel.

The college reserves the right not to offer any course for which there is insufficient enrollment, which is usually considered when registration is fewer than 12 students in general education courses or 7 students in major courses.

General Education Requirements

There are two types of requirements in general education: Commons courses and Connectors courses. The two-part structure below summarizes the requirements listed for each part. Please note that one course may not meet two general education requirements.

The Commons

The courses in the Commons constitute the heart of Liberal Arts in Action. They emphasize the connectivity of learning, life, and work and provide opportunities to explore major questions of human existence from different perspectives. These courses also provide a common experience for Mars Hill College students that promotes community and collaborative learning. They are required of all students.

The Liberal Arts in Action Commons explores central human questions:

LAA 111 Challenges: Who are you? What do you want from college?

What is a liberal arts education and what learning challenges and opportunities do you have at MHC? Challenges courses have different themes, for which student interest and teacher interest match. All have reading, formal & informal writing, oral presentations, and service-learning experiences. The goal is to help students connect to MHC in a variety of ways that promote character development, service, and responsible citizenship. (first year)

LAA 121 Character: What is human nature? What makes good character?

How much are we all more alike than we are different? Underneath differences in individual character and cultural differences, how alike are we? What are we like? What makes us tick? How much are we determined by our genes, by our families or culture, by outside forces, and how much freedom do we have? (first year)

LAA 221 Civic Life: How do societies work? What makes a good society?

How have human beings across time and cultures organized their lives together? How do geography, religion, politics, athletics, and the arts shape communities? Case studies of different cultures provide context for asking: How does this society work? What makes for a good society? What kinds of rights and responsibilities should individuals, communities, and states practice? (sophomore year – fall)

LAA 231 Critique-Faith & Reason: How do we know what is real, true, important?

How does this tradition wrestle with scientific and religious questions about the nature of reality, knowledge, and value? From the Greeks to the Geeks – this course explores the narrative of “the western tradition.” Aural, visual, and written material provide the conceptual framework for examining the forces that have shaped the conversation in western societies about what we know, what we don’t know, how science and religion relate to each other, and what matters. (sophomore year – spring)

LAA 321 Creativity: What is creativity? How do we nurture it in life and work?

This course explores the creative spark – in process and product across disciplines and cultures, across personality and preferences. How do the liberal arts disciplines express creativity? What is universal about creativity? How can each person bring creative energy, processes, and products into their lives and work? (junior or senior year—each semester)

Capstone Requirement: How do we put it all together?

Goal: to demonstrate advanced critical thinking, writing, and oral communication skills. Senior seminars, internships (pre-approved, significant civic engagement project, international study-travel, or EST 320 (Ethics, Science & Technology : team-taught by scientist and ethicist, exploring the impact of scientific developments on society, and individual and corporate response.) Written & oral presentations.

Some students may be exempted from English 111 on the basis of their demonstrated abilities through Advanced Placement Credit. These students may take English 112.

* Note: All full-time students must take an English course every semester until the English requirement is complete. Based on the results of the writing section of the APT (academic placement test) or high school records, students will be placed in English 101, 111 or 113. Students are not permitted to drop 100-level English courses. Students for whom English is a second language may be required to enroll in English 100 (ESL: English as a Second Language) as a prerequisite for English 111.

The department's purposes are:

- to provide art majors, teacher licensure, and art minors with engaging educational experiences designed to prepare them for a variety of professional careers and continued learning in the arts;
- to provide learning experiences in art to all students for general education and elective credit which promote creativity, individual aesthetic awareness, and knowledge of the roles art plays in our culture;
- to provide opportunities for cultural enrichment and growth for all members of the college community by encouraging active participation in the art world as a meaningful way to embody the unique spiritual and human values inherent in the arts.

The Business program prepares students to engage creatively in the complex and demanding world of business. The department recognizes the necessity of developing not only specific professional skills and competencies, but also the disposition to face new challenges proactively. We want to cultivate individuals who understand the full spectrum of the business landscape: the important social and political roles of business in our global community, particular skill-sets and knowledge required for effective operations, skills and behaviors that promote successful teamwork, and skills and behaviors that promote life balance.

Goals:

- To promote an understanding of the interconnectedness of management, marketing, accounting, finance, and the other core knowledge areas.
- To promote an understanding of the - impact and importance of technology on business operations.

- To promote strategic thinking, leading and managing collaboratively, effective participation in team efforts, effective communication, and entrepreneurship.
- To be a resource for the local and regional business community.

The curriculum is composed of three sets of requirements: BSS courses, business core courses, and concentration courses. The Business and Social Science (BSS) courses are inspired by the mission of the school and the goal of collaboration across the multiple programs within the Division of Business and Social Science. The business core provides the foundation of business education knowledge areas. The core courses give special attention to critical linkages among these subjects. The concentrations are a reflection of trends in the business world and faculty strengths and interests. As a component of Principles of Management, students will conduct a self-assessment and develop a career development plan that addresses plans for their remaining studies and post-graduation plans. Students will revise their plan and compile a portfolio of their work as a part of the capstone experience. The capstone experience (BA 450) also provides students the opportunity to plan how to apply their business education to employment opportunities following graduation.

Transfer students must take a minimum of 12 hours in 300-400 level accounting, business, and communication courses at Mars Hill College.

Note on Internships

The department encourages students to incorporate an internship into their course of study. Students can complete a three, six, or twelve-hour internship. If the internship is for three or six hours these credits will fulfill that number of upper division elective hours required for a concentration. If students wish to engage in a full-time internship (12 hours), it must be connected to the student's concentration and can satisfy twelve of the fifteen hours of the concentration. The student's advisor will determine which of the required courses the student will need to complete the concentration.

The Business Department offers a BS in Business Management through the Adult ACCESS program. The curriculum is designed to support the working adult's pursuit of professional achievement.

The core of this program is the six course concentration with students taking two courses at a time over a sequence of three ten-week terms.

The Mars Hill College Teacher Education Program offers excellent preparation for students who plan to enter and succeed in the teaching profession. The aim is to produce able, confident teachers who are well-versed in their fields and who possess the knowledge, skills, and values essential to be true Teacher Professionals.

The Teacher Professional

The elementary program provides a year-long internship. During the first semester of this clinical experience, interns serve as teacher assistants, gaining insight into the day-to-day activities of the public school classroom. During the second semester, interns assume the full responsibilities of a teacher. In order to work effectively with diverse student populations, all year-long interns and one-semester student teachers spend time working with students in a multicultural setting.

The college makes the Teacher Education Program available to working adults through the ACCESS program held at five sites throughout the region.

The College and its faculty are connected to area teachers by providing workshops and seminars covering a variety of topics such as using technology and primary resources in the K-12 classroom, gifted education, ESL education, Special Education, classroom management, arts in education, developmental reading and literacy.

The Teacher Education Program is accredited by the National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE) and by the North Carolina State Department of Public Instruction making it possible for the Mars Hill College Teacher Education graduates to have reciprocity in licensure with forty-two other states in addition to the District of Columbia and Guam.

TEACHER EDUCATION PROGRAM:

Transition Points and Requirements

Candidates in the Teacher Education Program progress through a series of four transition points. At each point, candidates must demonstrate professional and academic knowledge, teaching potential and skills, and the values, ethics and dispositions appropriate to the Teacher Professional.

- Transition One – Admission to the Teacher Education Program
- Transition Two – Admission to Clinical Practice
- Transition Three – Completion of Clinical Practice
- Transition Four – Program Completion and Licensure Requirements

Transition One – Admission to the Teacher Education Program

Applications for admission to the Teacher Education Program are accepted from students at the end of the second semester of the sophomore year. Requirements for acceptance include:

1. Completion of ED 202 (Introduction to Elementary Ed) or ED 203 (Introduction to Middle Grades/ Secondary Ed).
2. Submission of a completed application.
3. Passing scores on Praxis I.
4. Minimum cumulative GPA (grade point average) of 2.50.
5. Interview and recommendation from the major department.
6. Teacher Education Interview.
7. Portfolio requirement: creation of a working electronic portfolio.
8. Approval of the Teacher Education Council.

Transition Two – Admission to Clinical Practice

In order to progress into clinical practice, a candidate must have been admitted to the Teacher Education Program at least one semester prior to student teaching and must meet the following requirements:

1. Submission of an internship/student teaching application.
2. Minimum cumulative GPA of 2.50.
3. Completion of 90 semester hours.
4. Recommendation from the program coordinator.
5. Portfolio requirement: continuation of the working electronic portfolio.
6. Approval of the Teacher Education Council.

Transition Three – Completion of Clinical Practice

To complete the clinical practice experience successfully, a candidate must meet the following requirements:

1. Satisfactory intern/student teaching evaluation completed by the cooperating teacher and the college supervisor. Exit Criteria evaluation form completed.
2. Minimum cumulative GPA of 2.50.
3. Completion and submission of the Teacher Professional electronic portfolio.
4. Exit interview process.

Transition Four – Program Completion and Licensure Requirements

In order to graduate from Mars Hill College with a degree in Education or with a degree in another field which leads to teaching licensure, a candidate must meet requirements 1 and 2 below. To be recommended to the North Carolina Department of Public Instruction for licensure, a candidate must meet all of the following requirements:

1. Qualify for graduation by completing all program requirements in the area of licensure.
2. Maintain minimum cumulative GPA of 2.50.

3. Receive passing scores on Praxis II, as required by the state.
4. Submission of a technology portfolio which meets the NETS-T competencies (may be included in the Teacher Professional portfolio).
5. Receive the recommendation of the licensure officer in the Teacher Education Unit.

FIELD EXPERIENCES

- Level 1 The Introduction to Education course provides the first opportunity for students to participate in field experiences in the public schools.
- Level 2 Candidates engage in specific and advanced-level field experiences during their methods classes.
- Level 3 The culminating field experience includes a full-year internship for elementary (K-6) and middle school (6-9) candidates, and a full semester for secondary (9-12) and special subject area (K-12) candidates. As part of clinical practice, each candidate is also involved in a multicultural experience.

Department of English

Majors: English
Minors: English

Department Chair: Harold McDonald
Professors: Carol Boggess
Noel Kinnamon
Harold McDonald*
Associate Professor: Jason Pierce
Assistant Professors: Virginia Bower*
Joanna T. Pierce

Pending approval by the Board of Trustees*

The department offers a major program broad enough to provide a sound basis in literature (British, American, and World), in writing (critical, professional, and creative), and in the history and structure of the English language. The curriculum is designed to develop a variety of skills: reading, writing, speaking, listening, viewing, computer use, and research. The goals are breadth and depth of learning, development of aesthetic awareness, and preparation for graduate study or for careers in teaching, writing, and other professions.

Department of Fashion & Interior Merchandising

Major: Fashion & Interior Merchandising
Department Chair: Brenda M. Russell
Associate Professors: Rebecca Cody
Brenda M. Russell

The Department of Fashion and Interior Merchandising provides a broad-based education in apparel and interiors with emphasis on fashion, business, technology and design. The curriculum promotes the importance of conceptual thinking, analytical problem solving and creative development. This program of study enables students to develop attributes, skills and abilities to become effective contributors to businesses and organizations.

Goals

1. To provide a program of study in Fashion and Interior Merchandising which enables students to:
 - Apply critical-thinking skills to life and business situations
 - Function as graduates who are contributing members of organizations
 - Assess needs, design strategies, and implement professional and ethical solutions
 - Develop creativity
 - Adapt to technology changes
2. To provide a curriculum and advising structure for students which requires cross-discipline study and work experience, encourages international study and encourages minors in other disciplines.
3. For the faculty to participate in activities which will keep them fresh and cutting edge in the discipline and in teaching.
4. To operate a program which connects students to the world of work, provides networking opportunities for students and provides feedback and suggestions/implications for curricular adjustment.

Additional Information

The New York Fashion Study Tour (FIM 100), offered every other year, is an exciting class where students spend a week in New York over spring break. The experience includes seminars with professionals in various aspects of the fashion and interiors business, visits to museums and galleries, attendance at Broadway plays, and much more.

The Fashion and Interior Merchandising Internship (FIM 463) is a required, full-time, senior-level experience in a retail or service environment of particular interest to a student. Many of our students are offered positions with the firm for whom they intern. In preparation for this experience, students take FIM 459, Professional Seminar.

Field Trips and Out-of-Class Experiences where students connect to the world of work are an important component for the FIM major. Trips include those to wholesale markets in Atlanta, GA, High Point, NC, and Gatlinburg, TN, as well as trips in the local area to businesses, mills, and galleries where there is a connection to fashion and interiors.

Small class sizes allow us to connect to students and be sensitive to individual needs, both professionally and personally. We work closely with students to enhance academic and personal growth.

Department of Health/Physical Education/Recreation

Majors: Physical Education, Recreation
Minors: Physical Education, Recreation

Professors: Charles Sproles
Assistant Professors: Jeff Anderson
Lura Edsall
William Hamilton
Instructor: Joy Clifton

The Health/Physical Education/Recreation Department offers a major in Physical Education with concentrations in Teacher Education, Sports Management, and Sports Science and a minor in general Physical Education. It does not offer a major in Health nor in Health Education. Elementary Education majors may choose a concentration in Physical Education.

The Physical Education curriculum offers academic preparation for a variety of careers in the physical education area. Courses focus on sports skills development; historical, philosophical psychological, sociological, kinesiological, and physiological foundations of the discipline; working with atypical individuals, research and statistical foundations; and teaching methodology.

Internship opportunities provide practical learning experiences in a variety of professional settings. Students in the Teacher Education major will complete a student teaching internship which provides practical experiences and learning opportunities in a public school environment. Students who successfully complete the program in Physical Education/Teacher Education will be eligible for licensure by the N.C. Department of Public Instruction. Students majoring in Sports Management will be assigned to an appropriate internship site based on their particular career goals. Students in the Sports Science major will complete a general degree in physical education plus an appropriate internship.

The recreation and leisure services curriculum offers academic preparation for a wide variety of recreation, park, and leisure service careers. Courses focus on the philosophical and historical foundations of the profession, the role and function of leisure service agencies in contemporary society, and the development of skills necessary for leadership, supervision, planning, and management of recreation programs and services. Field work and internship opportunities offer experiential learning in various settings such as community park and recreation departments, youth service agencies, churches, camps, nature centers, federal and state agencies, employee services departments in major industries, military installations, correctional institutions, hospitals, nursing homes, commercial outfitters, resorts, health spas, country clubs, and other such components within the leisure service industry. Students completing a degree in recreation may be eligible for certification by such organizations as the National Council for Therapeutic Recreation Certification (NCTRC), the North Carolina Therapeutic Recreation Certification Board (NCTRCB), the National Recreation and Park Association (NRPA), and the North Carolina Recreation and Park Society (NCRPS) depending upon the concentration of the major.

Department of History

Major: History
Minor: History

Department Chair: Phyllis Smith
Professor: James Lenburg
Associate Professor: Phyllis Smith
Assistant Professors: Lucia Carter
Kathryn Newfont

The Department seeks to prepare its students for active roles in society, to train them for graduate study, and to develop and refine skills that will be useful in a variety of professions. Special importance is given to training secondary social studies teachers and to the subject-matter concentration for middle school social studies teachers. The history curriculum is based on the principle that students should learn the critical thinking and analytical skills of the historical method as well as the mastery of historical information. In addition to its major, its minor, and its teacher licensure programs, the department invites students to take its courses as electives and to satisfy general education requirements.

Department of Mathematics & Computer Science

Majors: Computer Science, Mathematics

Associate Professor: Gordon Roberts
Assistant Professors: Sarah Butrum
Rebecca Cody
Stefen Howard
Harry Hughes
Instructors: Marty Gilbert
Jennifer Rhinehart

The Department of Mathematics and Computer Science offers programs directed toward the following goals.

The goals of the Mathematics program:

- To provide a major in mathematics designed to develop mathematical knowledge and skills that may be applied in a variety of professions.
- To prepare students for graduate studies in mathematics and related fields of study.
- To provide a minor in mathematics supporting other majors.
- To provide service courses supporting other majors.
- To prepare students for secondary teacher licensure in mathematics.
- To prepare students for teacher licensure with a concentration in mathematics at the elementary and middle-school level.
- To provide courses that develop the mathematical understanding and skills necessary for individual growth, successful careers, and responsible, informed citizenship as part of the program of general studies.

- To prepare those students whose mathematical knowledge and skills are insufficient for college-level work.

The goals of the Computer Science program:

- To prepare students for employment in computer science and information management.
- To offer an opportunity for non-majors to gain in-depth exposure in an area of computer science through the minor programs.
- To offer computer applications courses which provide basic technological skills for students in other majors.
- To prepare students for graduate study in computer science or information management.

Department of Modern Foreign Languages

Major: Spanish
Minors: German, Spanish

Department Chair: Robert Kramer
Professor: Robert Kramer
Associate Professor: Gregory Clemons
Assistant Professor: Gordon Hinnars

The primary purposes of modern foreign language study are to make it an integral part of the student's education, to develop a better understanding of self and the modern world, to give the student a good understanding of basic communications skills, and to stimulate interest in further study.

Department of Music

Majors: Music, Music Education, Music Performance
Minor: Music

Associate Professor: Douglas Gordon
Assistant Professors: Cathy Adkins
Al Corley
Robin Garner
Carolyn Lamberson
James Sparrow
Instructors: Cynthia Perkins
Brian Tinkel

General Information

The Department of Music provides an environment in which professional and non-professional musicians may continue to develop the skills, knowledge, concepts and sensitivities essential in recognizing and cultivating quality musical experiences. This development takes place within a liberal arts academic community that:

- enables the pursuit of undergraduate degrees in music
- enhances the breadth of non-music degrees
- emphasizes the artistic and personal maturity of the individual
- encourages personal enrichment through diverse musical experiences
- embraces professional values, responsibilities and relationships
- values highly-qualified, professionally-active faculty who continue the tradition of excellence in music

Degrees

The Bachelor of Music degree is offered with majors in Music Education (Choral, Instrumental, or Elementary emphasis) and Performance. The Bachelor of Arts degree is offered for students who desire a broad liberal arts education or who wish to combine a major in music with a minor or concentration in other areas of study. The Bachelor of Fine Arts degree in Musical Theatre is offered through the Department of Theatre.

Within any of the degree programs, a student chooses a principal applied instrument from among the following: organ, piano, or voice; or brass, percussion, or woodwind instruments. The Music Education degree prepares a student for North Carolina Class A Certification K-12.

Accreditation

The Department of Music holds full membership in the National Association of Schools of Music. The Music Education degree is part of the Teacher Education Program, which is accredited by the National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE) and by the North Carolina State Department of Public Instruction.

Admission as a Music Major

Students who wish to major in music should indicate that on their admission application. The music office will contact each student with the specific information on procedures for the prospective music major to follow, including how to arrange an audition on the principal applied instrument. The prospective music major or minor is formally admitted to the Department of Music only after he or she has passed an entrance audition.

Entering students should audition in person, although a video tape recording may be sent in cases where a visit to the campus poses a personal hardship on the student. Complete information on auditions is available from the Department of Music (828-689-1209) or on the website www.finearts.mhc.edu/music.

The prospective student should plan to audition early in the spring semester before his or her entrance the following fall. Although auditions may be held as late as registration for the first semester the student is on campus, no student is accepted into the Department of Music without the audition.

Music Scholarships

Scholarships are available for students who are superior performers and participate in the major ensembles. Prospective students should arrange for a scholarship audition. Students should complete the application process for admission to the College prior to setting the audition date. Inquiries may be addressed to the Chair of the Department of Music. Auditions should be completed by the Spring prior to Fall entry.

According to NASM standards, students accepting a music scholarship must commit in writing to this financial award on May 1. After making this commitment, the student may not negotiate financial aid with another institution without permission of the Chair of the Department of Music.

Examinations for Transfer Students

Students wishing to transfer credits to Mars Hill College in applied music, conducting, or music theory must take examinations in each of these areas before the credits will be counted toward a music degree. If the examinations reveal weaknesses, the student may be required to complete additional work. Further information on these examinations may be obtained by contacting the Department of Music.

Performance Labs, Master Classes, and Recitals

Departmental Performance Labs:

One hour per week is set aside for students to gain experience in various performance venues.

Faculty and Guest Recitals and Concerts

The College Visiting Artists and Lecturers Series brings artists and musical groups to campus for performances. Also, the Music Department sponsors recitals by its faculty members and guest artists. The proximity of Asheville enables students to attend performances by the Asheville Symphony Orchestra, the Asheville Lyric Opera, and other area ensembles.

Recital Attendance Requirements:

Each semester, students pursuing a major or minor in music are required to attend Music Department sponsored concerts or events. Refer to the Music Department Handbook for specific requirement.

Department of Natural Sciences

Majors: Athletic Training, Biology, Botany, Chemistry, Zoology
Minors: Biology, Biological Natural History, Chemistry, Environmental Studies, Pre-Professional Studies

Department Chair: Frank Quick
Professors: Jo Ann Croom
Frank Quick
Associate Professors: Sam Boggess

Biology and Chemistry

The department prepares students for employment and for graduate and professional programs with direct applications in many fields, particularly botany, zoology, chemistry, research, and in the health sciences through the athletic training program and in preprofessional studies.

The Pre-Professional Studies Minor is offered for students anticipating further study in health science fields. Specific requirements for students pursuing entry into medical, dental, pharmacy, physician assistant, chiropractic, and veterinary schools are available from the Director of pre-professional studies. In addition to the science courses required for the minor, communication, leadership, and additional science related courses are also required by some professional schools. Although no major course of study is specified, most students major in either biology or chemistry. The medical (MCAT), dental (DAT), pharmacy (PCAT), veterinary (VAT), and the graduate record exam (GRE) should be taken no later than the fall semester of the student's senior year.

Athletic Training

A student pursuing this undergraduate entry-level program must complete the athletic training major at Mars Hill. Competitive admission to this program occurs after the freshman year.

Prerequisites include proof of physical examination and current immunizations (as required by admissions standards), 2.5 cumulative grade point average, completion of Biology (BIO) 122 and 134, completion of application form, and a formal interview by committee members. This major will allow a student to complete the necessary course work to sit for the National Athletic Trainer's Association Board of Certification examination. The Mars Hill College Athletic Training Program has received accreditation from CAAHEP.

Department of Political Science

Major: Political Science
Minor: Political Science

Department Chair: George Peery
Professors: George Peery
Larry Stern

This major is designed to include a variety of courses which represent knowledge and skills from the recognized sub-fields of the discipline. Political science graduates may attend law school or graduate school or pursue careers in public affairs, education, or the private sector.

Department of Psychology

Major: Psychology
Minor: Psychology

Department Chair: Ray Cook
Professor: Walter Stroud
Associate Professor: Ray Cook
Assistant Professor: Yael Baldwin
Instructor: Michael Miller

The program is designed to teach students to observe, identify, understand, predict, and change behavior by approaching it through the various theories and methods of the discipline and the integrative frameworks of the division.

Department of Religion & Philosophy

Major: Religion
Minors: Religion, Philosophy and Religion

Department Chair: Marc Mullinax
Associate Professors: Katharine Meacham
Marc Mullinax
Matthew Baldwin
Adjunct Professors: Jerry Gill
Robert Ratner
Walter Ziffer

The major in Religion will prepare students for graduate study, for seminary, for service and leadership in church and in community and for personal and intellectual growth as they seek meaning through the study of religion and philosophy. The minor will support many different majors at Mars Hill College. The department of Religion and Philosophy participates in the college's commitment to the union of vital Christian faith and rigorous study in the liberal arts.

Department of Social Work

Major: Social Work

Department Chair: Julia Nooe
Professor: Julia Nooe
Associate Professor: Elizabeth Vogler

The department identifies its primary educational goals as the preparation of students for generalist social work practice and/or graduate studies in social work. The curriculum focuses on the values, knowledge, and skills requisite for generalist practice. Students learn to effectively assist various client systems (to include individual, family, group, neighborhood, and community). The Social Work program is fully accredited by the Council on Social Work Education.

Department of Sociology

Major: Sociology
Minors: Criminal Justice, Sociology

Department Chair: Laurie Pedersen
Assistant Professor: Laurie Pedersen
Instructor: Aubrey Raper
Adjunct Instructor: Craig Goforth

The department provides students with a flexible sequence of courses built around the traditional core of the discipline. In addition to preparation for graduate school, emphasis is on criminal justice and research skills which enhance career opportunities in many areas.

Department of Theatre Arts

Majors: Musical Theatre, Theatre Arts
Minor: Theatre Arts

Department Chair: Neil St. Clair
Professor: Julie Fortney
Associate Professor: William Gregg
Assistant Professor and Director of Musical Theatre: Dewitt Tipton
Instructor: Cynthia Perkins

It is the intent of this department to offer a major program that will prepare students to pursue careers in the broad spectrum of the theatre arts (academic and professional), as well as in theatre-related fields. To reach this end the department offers two majors. It is also possible to major in Theatre Arts and Music Education, a four and one-half year program, by special arrangement.

Purposes of the departmental programs are:

- 1. To prepare students for careers in the field. (Graduate School, Educational Theatre, and Professional Theatre).
- 2. To provide opportunities for the non-major to participate in theatre activities, fulfilling in part the function of a liberal arts college.
- 3. To provide cultural experiences for the campus and community.
- 4. To complement and supplement the work of other departments in the college.

B.A. in English as a Second Language (ESL) 128-138 HOURS

The ESL Education major prepares teachers to work in grades K-12. The curriculum is interdisciplinary and prepares teachers with the sociological, psychological, historical, linguistic, and political foundations for developing responsive teaching for students from diverse linguistic and cultural backgrounds. All students completing this major will participate in a full semester student teaching experience in a public school while taking related advanced courses.

Students must complete:

- I. General Education Requirements
- II. Major Requirements
- III. Concentration Requirements

I. General Education Requirements

Students must complete the Liberal Arts in Action Commons and Connector course requirements. Nine semester hours of Connector requirements should consist of:

Social Science:
PSY 111 General Psychology	3

B.A. in Middle Grades Education
133-136 Hours

The major in Middle Grades Education is designed to prepare teacher education candidates for teacher licensure with two content area concentrations.

- Students must complete:
I. General Education Requirements
II. Major Requirements
III. Concentrations (Language Arts and Social Studies, Mathematics and Science)

I. General Education Requirements

Students must complete the Liberal Arts in Action Commons and Connector course requirements. Sixteen – eighteen semester hours of Connector requirements should consist of:

Table with 2 columns: Requirement, Hours. Rows include Arts Experience (TA 375 Creative Drama), Natural Science (NS 111 Introduction to Biological Science), Social Science (PSY 111 General Psychology), American Diversity (HIS 223 US History I), and MTH 107 or MTH 115 (Science Concentration).

II. Major Requirements (39 Hours)

Table with 2 columns: Requirement, Hours. Rows include CS 200 Computer Applications for Education, ED 205 Introduction to Education, ED 241 Introduction to Special Education, ED 314 The Adolescent Learner, ENG 312 Adolescent Literature, ED 340 Middle Grades Curriculum, ED 401 Psychological Foundations, ED 402 His/Phil/Soc Foundations Education, ED 410 Reading in Content Area, ED 407 Observation and Directed Teaching, and ED 502 Multicultural Experience.

III. Concentration Requirements (21-27 Hours)

Table with 2 columns: Requirement, Hours. Rows include A. Language Arts (ENG 312 Adolescent Literature, ENG 332 Structure & Usage, ENG 333 Grammar & Linguistics for ESL, ENG 334 Second Language & Literacy Dev, Two from: ENG 321 American Literature I, ENG 322 American Literature II, ENG 323 British Literature I, ENG 324 British Literature II, ENG 325 British Literature III, ENG 329 Diversity in American Literature, ED 412 Teaching English in Mid/Sec Sch) and B. For licensure only students, a major in Mathematics, History, English or Biology will satisfy the concentration requirements.

B.A. in Special Education 129-134 Hours

The major in Special Education is designed to prepare teacher candidates for teaching in the exceptional needs classroom (K-12). The curriculum is structured so that prospective teachers acquire the knowledge, skills and dispositions to ensure success in the field of Special Education. Candidates in this program participate in practicum classes and field experiences as they learn to apply the specialized skills gained through their training. A full semester internship in a public school is required for the completion of the program.

Students must complete:

- I. General Education Requirements
II. Major Requirements
III. Supportive Requirements

I. General Education Requirements

Students must complete the Liberal Arts in Action Commons and Connector course requirements. Thirteen semester hours of Connector requirements should consist of:

Table with 2 columns: Requirement, Hours. Rows include Natural Science (NS 113 Physical Science Survey), Social Science (PSY 111 General Psychology), American Diversity (HIS 223 US to 1865), and Mathematics (MTH 107 Finite Math).

B.A. in Music 128 Hours

The Bachelor of Arts in Music degree is a liberal arts degree designed for students who wish to major in music as part of a broad general education, rather than primarily for specialization at the undergraduate level. This program also is appropriate for students who seek a music degree as the foundation for additional study in more specialized areas such as church music, pedagogy, accompanying, music theory, and music history. The limited number of hours in music required in this program provides more flexibility than do the professional degree programs in music.

Major Skill Laboratories

Skill laboratories are only for physical education, sports science, and teacher education majors. Enrollment by a non-major will be only by special permission of the instructor. The purpose of the skill laboratories is to provide an opportunity for the student to develop and improve his/her skills and knowledge of the activities/sports presented. Emphasis will also be given to identifying a variety of methods for teaching the skills and progressions appropriate to the learning of each.

All physical education, sports science, and teacher education majors must meet this requirement. Transfer students are subject to the same requirements; however, the transcript will be analyzed and credit granted when appropriate. Substitution of general education activity courses will not be permitted. Skill labs should be completed at the earliest possible time in the student’s program since they provide skills and knowledge prerequisite to more advanced courses.

The department offers the following Sports Skill Laboratories for major credit:

PE 200 Team Sports Skill Lab	3
PE 201 Individual Sports Skill Lab I	2
PE 202 Individual Sports Skill Lab II	2
PE 203 Dance Skill Lab	2

Admissions Policy:

The Social Work Program conducts its own formal admissions process. Guidelines and application introduced in SW 215. Transfer students may consult with program coordinator.

Transfer Policy:

Social Work courses may be transferred as course equivalents provided they were successfully completed in a CSWE accredited BSW program.

No College Credit for Work or Life Experience Policy

Without exception, college credit shall never be awarded for any prior or current work and/or life experience(s). For example, an incoming BSW major may have documentation supporting a current or former employment assignment (e.g., Department of Social Services); while we recognize the value of this training, we cannot award college credit for the experience.

III. Electives (6 Hours)

Musical Theatre jury examinations are held by the voice faculty of the Department of Music and the acting/musical theatre faculty of the Department of Theatre. A musical theatre jury is given for each student receiving credit in AMU applied music.

Formal admission to the BFA program in musical theatre is gained at the conclusion of the sophomore year by way of a junior qualifying audition. The student must pass this performance examination in voice and musical theatre. Its purpose is to determine if the student has the practical skills and discipline necessary to complete the BFA degree.

To be eligible to apply for admission to the BFA program, the student must have earned a grade of C- or higher in all courses required for the major and have a minimum GPA of 2.75 in major courses. A minimum overall GPA of 2.75 must have been earned each semester prior to application to the degree program. Additionally, retention in the program is dependent upon the student receiving grades of C- or higher in all classes required for the major and maintaining an overall GPA of 2.75. Any student whose average falls below 2.75 in a semester following formal admission to the BFA program will be on probation and granted one semester to raise it to the minimum GPA. Failing that, the student may continue in the BA degree program.

Musical Theatre students are required to pay for their accompanist each semester. This $180.00 fee is not part of regular tuition and fees but is included in college charges.

Minor in Theatre Arts

Students desiring to complete a minor in Theatre Arts must complete the following requirements.

Theatre Arts	21 Hours
TA 111 Theatre Lab (3 semesters)	3
TA 117 Introduction to Theatre	3
TA 131 Acting I: Fundamentals	3

Productions

Five productions are presented each school year. These include a major musical work, a musical revue, straight plays and one-act plays. It is the goal of the department to offer a balanced program of plays, representing various periods, genres, and styles.

Southern Appalachian Repertory Theatre

The Department sponsors the Southern Appalachian Repertory Theatre (SART), a professional summer theatre established in 1975. SART’s mission is to provide quality theatre for the residents of the region by performing a variety of plays, including musicals; plays concerning Appalachia which portray the rich culture and heritage of its people; and to promote the development of new plays.

Mars Hill College students are given the opportunity to work and perform with the company and may receive credit toward any theatre arts degree through such work.

Minor in Regional Studies
18-23 Hours

For 150 years, Mars Hill College has served the people of the Southern Blue Ridge. The regional studies program is designed to foster an understanding of the history, culture and environment of this region.

This interdisciplinary program assists students in understanding their community, the region, and connections to the broader world. It employs the concepts and methodologies of several liberal arts disciplines including humanities, natural science, social sciences and fine arts and includes field experiences. While the minor focuses on the Southern Blue Ridge mountains, the knowledge and skills developed therein can be applied to any other region. The Regional Studies minor is recommended for all students and especially encouraged for any student who expects to have a career that depends on ties to the surrounding community such as education, business, politics, religion, or research in the natural or social sciences. Flexibility in course choices and field experiences can complement students’ majors.

Women’s studies is an academic field of study that utilizes a particular framework through which to view critical intellectual issues. This interdisciplinary minor examines and analyzes the world from a variety of perspectives. Through the study of the arts, humanities, natural and social sciences, and physical education, the minor affirms the existence, integrity, and value of women’s diverse experiences. While students pursue their own intellectual, spiritual, and personal growth, Women’s Studies helps students analyze the experiences of women and men in various cultures. Committed to freedom of inquiry and to building bridges beyond academia, it seeks to improve communication and to prepare and equip women and men for service and leadership.

Designed to enhance the athletic training students knowledge of theory and practical application through junior level competencies and clinical hours. Co-requisite: 323 Prerequisites: AT 222, 223, 325, 340, 271, 272. Fall.

AT 372. Athletic Training Practicum IV 2
Designed to further enhance the athletic training students knowledge of theory and practical application through junior level competencies and clinical hours. Co-requisite: 341 Prerequisites: AT 222, 223, 271, 272, 323, 325, 371. Spring.

AT 415. Administration of Athletic Training 3
Designed to aid the student in developing a knowledge of principles, organization, and administration of athletic training programs. Prepares the student for clinical experiences involving prevention, evaluation, care, and rehabilitation of injuries associated with physical activity. Co-requisite: AT 471 Prerequisites: AT 222, 223, 271, 272, 323, 325, 340, 341, 371, 372. Fall.

AT 427. Senior Seminar 2
Designed to prepare students to take the NATA-BOC certification examination and further their knowledge in athletic training. Co-requisite: AT 472 Prerequisites: AT 222, 223, 271, 272, 323, 325, 340, 341, 371, 372. 415, 471. Spring.

AT 457, 458. Directed Readings 1-3
Independent readings directed by members of the athletic training faculty members. Materials may be obtained from the department chair or program director.

AT 460. Independent Study 1-3
An opportunity for the outstanding student to pursue professional interest areas in some degree of depth. Library research in the form of an undergraduate thesis will be required. Materials may be obtained from the department chair or program director.

AT 471. Athletic Training Practicum V 2

AT 472. Athletic Training Practicum VI 2
Designed to further enhance the athletic training student’s knowledge of theory and practical application through senior level competencies and clinical hours. Co-requisite: AT 427 Prerequisite: AT 222, 223, 271, 272, 323, 325, 340, 341, 371, 372. 415, 471. Spring.

Biology

BIO 113. Introduction to Organismal Biology 4
Basic morphology, physiology, and diversity of living organisms. Laboratory. Fall and Spring.

BIO 114. Introduction to Ecology and Evolution 4
Basic ecology and evolution of populations, communities, and ecosystems. Laboratory. Fall and Spring.

BIO 115. Introduction to Cellular Biology and Genetics4
An introduction to cellular structure and function including cell reproduction and basic genetics. Laboratory. No prerequisites, but an elementary knowledge of chemistry helpful. This course meets the NS Connector requirement. Fall and Spring.

BIO 122. Medical Terminology 3
Etymology of the words and terms used in medicine and in the biological sciences. Emphasizes objective test taking. Every semester.

BIO 134, 135, 136. Human Anatomy and Physiology 4, 2, 2
An integrated study of the structure and function of the human body systems. Arranged in 24 modules with eight laboratory modules. Spring and summer.

BIO 134. Human Anatomy and Physiology I 4
Twelve modules to include not more than four laboratory modules.

BIO 135. Human Anatomy and Physiology II 2
Six modules must be completed. Prerequisite: BIO 134.

BIO 136. Human Anatomy and Physiology III 2
Six modules must be completed. Prerequisite: BIO 135.

BIO 213. Human Biology 4
Selected topics from cellular biology, genetics, microbiology, evolution, and ecology emphasizing the relationship between modern biology and the treatment of human disorders. Laboratory. Prerequisite: BIO 101 or any one of BIO 113, BIO 114, or BIO 115.

BIO 214. Natural History of the Southern Appalachians4
The physical geography, climate, and biota of the Southern Highlands with emphasis on the distribution of living organisms in relationship to the environment. Laboratory.

BIO 215. Cellular and Molecular Biology 4
The study of the molecular aspects of cellular structure and function. Laboratory. Prerequisites: BIO 115; CHM 113, 114.

BIO 216. Genetics 4
An integrated study of classical genetics and developments in molecular genetics. Laboratory. Prerequisites: BIO 115; CHM 113, 114.

BIO 226. Nutrition 3
The biological principles of human nutrition. Prerequisite: CHM 113 or consent of instructor.

BIO 231. Comparative Chordate Anatomy 4
A comparative study of the origin, relationships, and functional morphology of chordates. Laboratory. Prerequisite: BIO 111, 112.

BIO 243. Biology of Non-vascular Plants 4
Comparative morphology, phylogeny, physiology, and biochemistry of algae, liverworts, and mosses. Laboratory. Prerequisite: BIO 113.

BIO 244. Biology of Vascular Plants 4
Comparative anatomy and morphology, life histories, and economic contributions of the major groups of vascular plants. Laboratory. Prerequisite: BIO 113.

BIO 250. Introduction to Geographic Information Systems 4
An introduction to the theory and practice of analysis of spatial information using the technology of geographic information systems (GIS). There is an emphasis on hands-on learning using GIS software, hard copy maps, and data from several disciplines. Laboratory. Prerequisites: MTH 113 or MTH 115, CS 200 or BA 202, or permission of instructor.

BIO 261. Internship 1-4
An initial outside-the-classroom experience enabling students to explore new areas or to supplement regular courses. Credit awarded upon successful completion of the internship as described in the departmentally approved proposal. May be repeated only in unusual circumstances. Every semester.

BIO 325. Biotechnology 4
Purification, cutting, splicing, transfer, and detection of DNA. Tissue culture of living material included. Laboratory. Combined selection. Prerequisites: BIO 111, 115; CHM 113, 114.

BIO 327-328-329. Special Topics 1-4
Options for students to study, according to their interests, a variety of topics not covered in regular courses. Previous topics have included cytogenetics, developmental biology, entomology, invertebrate zoology, mammalogy, ornithology, parasitology, vertebrate embryology. Future topics to be announced by the department. Prerequisites: BIO 113, 114.

BIO 334. Comparative Animal Behavior 3
The evolution, development, and ecology of animal behavior. Prerequisites: BIO 114 and PSY 111. Offered on demand.

BIO 335. Plant Physiology 4
An introduction to the physical and chemical processes of plants, including growth, assimilation, respiration, photosynthesis, and food and water relations. Laboratory. Botany selection. Prerequisites: BIO 113, 215. Recommended: BIO 244. Fall, even-numbered years.

BIO 336. Microbiology 4
The microscopic forms: viruses, rickettsias, bacteria, fungi, and protozoa, and their relationship to man. Laboratory emphasis on the isolation, cultivation, identification, physiology, and methods of bacteria control. Prerequisites: BIO 115; CHM 113, 114.

BIO 337. Immunology 4
Study of the immune system. Laboratory. Prerequisites: BIO 215. Recommended: BIO 336.

BIO 339. Plant and Animal Physiology 4
Selected topics in the physiology of vascular plants and vertebrates. Laboratory. Prerequisites: BIO 113, 115.

BIO 341. Vertebrate Histology 4
Histological principles and microscopic characteristics of cells, tissues, organs, and systems. Laboratory. Zoology selection. Prerequisites: BIO 113, 115.

BIO 346. Plant Taxonomy 4
The identification and classification of vascular plants. Laboratory. Prerequisites: BIO 113, 114.

BIO 347. Population and Community Ecology 4
Ecological principles and concepts; the dynamics of the interactions between organisms and their environment; and population, community, and ecosystem interrelationships. Laboratory. Prerequisites: BIO 113, 114; 200 or 300-level organismal course; MTH 116.

BIO 348. Vertebrate Taxonomy and Natural History 4
The life histories, behavior, distribution, ecology, and identification of vertebrates with field studies in local environments. Laboratory. Zoology selection. Prerequisites: BIO 113, 114.

BIO 350. Research Methods in Biology 2
Overview of the process of scientific research and reporting. Prepares student for initiating an original research project for a senior thesis. Content includes exposure to primary literature, experimental design, approaches to data analysis, and reporting on findings. Career and graduate study options will be explored. Prerequisites: BIO 113, 114, 115; CHM 113, 114,: MTH 115, 116. Spring.

BIO 412. Evolution 4
History of the evolution concept, mechanisms of evolution, and the history of life. Laboratory. Prerequisites: BIO 113, 114, 115; MTH 116.

BIO 438. Biochemistry 4
The chemistry of the carbohydrates, lipids, and proteins; their role in metabolism. Laboratory. Prerequisites: BIO 215; CHM 113, 114.

BIO 450. Biology Senior Seminar 1
Required of biology program seniors. Preparing and delivering reports on scientific studies. Students will produce written and oral reports on findings of original research. Prerequisites: BIO 350. Spring.

BIO 457. Directed Readings 1-4
Intensive reading in areas of special interest to the student or centered around a specific topic for advanced work or research purposes. The student must have the approval of the instructor and the department chair. Application must be made the semester before enrollment. Offered each semester.

BIO 460. Independent Study 1-4
A directed program of laboratory and/or field research. The student must have the approval of the instructor, department chair, and appropriate college faculty committee. Application must be made the semester before enrollment. Prerequisites: BIO 350; MTH 116. Offered each semester.

BIO 461. Internship 1-8
A student/agency-originated and departmentally approved learning experience which enables students to apply previously attained knowledge and skills. May be repeated for a total of 8 semester hours of credit. Offered each semester.

Business Administration

BA 100. Introduction to Business Perspectives and Practices 3
Introduction to fundamental concepts of business and the linkages between different business disciplines. Includes a computer simulation package dealing with a variety of business issues providing students with a hands-on experience in business decision making.

BA 202. Information Technology 3
Introduction to personal computers and associated hardware and software in the business setting. This includes the MS Office suite, WebMail and the Internet.

BA 240. Personal Financial Planning 3
Introduction to personal financial planning for non-majors. The course covers essential concepts in building wealth, including the time value of money; sources and uses of credit; life and health insurance; investing fundamentals; and vehicles.

BA 261. Internship 1-3
An initial outside the classroom experience enabling students to explore new areas or to supplement regular courses. Departmental approval required. Graded on a S/U basis.

BA 300. New Venture Startup 3
This course examines the critical factors involved in the conception, initiation and development of new ventures and the importance of entrepreneurial thinking in professional employment. Topics include identification of characteristics of prospective entrepreneurs, innovation, market potential analysis, financial preparation, and organization and operation of a new independent venture or one within an existing business or non-profit.

BA 301. Introduction to Leadership 3
Leadership as a process which is an option for everyone. Topics include: leadership theories and models; followership, power and influence, ethical leadership, leading teams, ways women lead, critical thinking and decision-making, leadership development.

BA 320. Conflict Resolution in the Workplace 3
A skill oriented exploration of effective responses to interpersonal and structural conflicts that surface within organizations and with customers and vendors. This course will help students become skilled listeners and communicators, skilled negotiators and mediators, creative designers of conflict resolution systems within organizations, and proactive agents of effective relationship dynamics.

BA 327. Special Topics 1-3
Courses offered by the department to explore topics or issues not covered in regular courses.

BA 335. Business Communications 3
The nature and problems of individual, interpersonal, and organizational communications in business; extensive applications of the principles of oral and written communications using computer technology. Prerequisite: BA 202.

BA 336. Principles of Management 3
An introduction to management competencies, organizational structures, and current issues in management. This course is designed to build conceptual development within students as future managers and work team leaders and members. Prerequisite: BA 100

BA 340. Retailing Management 3
Application of principles of management to retailing operations, including store organization and management. Prerequisite: BA 336

BA 341. Human Resource Management 3
Application of principles of management to the acquisition, use, and development of an organization's human resources. Prerequisite: BA 336

BA 346. Principles of Finance 3
Principles of the elements of finance and financial management, including financial analysis and control, capital budgeting and structure, and debt and equity instruments. Prerequisite: ECO 220, BA 221

BA 351. Principles of Marketing 3
Introduction to the processes by which organizations identify markets and manage product development, pricing, promotion and distribution in order to satisfy market demand. Prerequisite: BA 100

BA 355. Marketing Research and Management 3
An overview of the management of the marketing process, with special emphasis on the identification of customer needs, wants and demands through effective research and information management. Prerequisite: BA 351

BA 365. Salesmanship 3
A study and practice of principles and methods of effective personal and business-to-business/industrial selling. The course stresses application through active sales presentations. Prerequisite: BA 100

BA 410. E-business Strategies 3
An overview of the strategies, technologies, and resources used by companies to sell, market, and distribute goods and services over the Internet and private networks. Trends and developments in e-business are explored through online investigation, classroom discussion, team exercises, and case research and analysis. Prerequisite: BA 351, 355.

BA 420. Collaborative Process in the Workplace 3
A skilled oriented exploration of collaborative processes that are used by managers and leaders to accomplish goals by helping others work together effectively. Students will learn how to use collaborative processes, design participative meetings, practice specific communication skills, and conduct information gathering, problem solving, and collaborative decision-making activities in group settings. Prerequisite: BA 320 or permission of the instructor.

BA 425. Decision Making – Theory and Skills
An investigation of how managers and organizational leaders assess decision contexts and make ‘smart’ decisions. Students will become familiar with decision theory, as well as specific processes and skills related to individual and collective decision making.

BA 437. Principles of Business Law 3
Principles of business law, with an emphasis on the language, elementary principles, and methodology of the U.S. legal system. Prerequisite: BA 100, 202, 221, 336, 346, 351, ECO 220, or instructor permission.

BA 440. Personal Finance and Investment 3
Introduction to personal financial planning for majors. The course covers essential concepts in building wealth, including the time value of money; sources and uses of credit; life and health insurance; investing fundamentals; and vehicles. Prerequisite: BA 346.

BA 450. Senior Seminar 3
This capstone course provides an opportunity to apply theory and further develop skills that are embodied within the Business Program. Students will complete a senior project involving a form of experiential learning that is tailored to each student's professional aspirations. Reflective learning methods will be applied to assess the quality of individual project engagements. Collaborative learning will be practiced through joint analysis and constructive feedback concerning students' projects. Prerequisites: Business core + 3 concentration courses.

BA 457, 458. Directed Readings 1-3
Independent readings approved and directed by a member of the department.

BA 460. Independent Study 1-3
An individual program of reading and research directed by members of the department and approved by the chair of the department.

BA 461. Internship 3-12
A field-learning experience that enables the student to apply knowledge and skills and to attain certain specified learning goals in a work-related environment. Requires department approval. Graded on a S/U basis.

Business and Social Science

BSS 210. Group Dynamics, Leadership, and Communication 3
The study of group and team development, group/team leadership, effective communication, decision making, and collaborative process within business, non-profit agencies and other organizational contexts.

BSS 220. Behavioral Science Statistics 3
An introduction to statistical analysis, including descriptive statistics, probability distributions, sampling theory, statistical inference, and regression and correlation analysis. Prerequisite: a Social/Behavioral Science connector course or BA 100, plus Mth 107.

BSS 250. Introduction to Geographic Information Systems 4
An introduction to the theory and practice of spatial information using the technology of geographic information systems (GIS). There is an emphasis on hands-on learning using GIS software, hard copy maps, and data from several disciplines. Laboratory. Prerequisites: MTH 113 or MTH 115, CS 200 or BA 202, or permission of instructor.

BSS 327, 328. Special Topics 3
Courses offered by the school to explore topics or issues not covered in regular courses.

BSS 330. Organizational Ethics 3
An exploration of the relationship of businesses and organizations to the larger society, the role of the organization as a community, and ethical issues that arise in organizational life.

Business Management

BUS 302. Leadership Strategies 3
Introduces students to leadership and followership roles within a team and organizational context. Strategies for increasing competencies in areas critical for effective leadership are explored, including developing a systems perspective, shared vision, opportunity recognition, and human capital development.

BUS 320. Data Analysis and Interpretation 3
Introduces students to the basic tools and methods of analysis in using data to understand processes and issues. Covers probability, distributions, descriptive and inferential statistics, regression, and simulation. Uses spreadsheet exercises, examples, and cases related to marketing, finance, and management. Prerequisite: BCS 220.

BUS 321. Decision Theory and Evaluation 3
Begins with development of tools and procedures for making good decisions, including problem definition and structuring, and dealing with uncertainty. Examines the process of accessing strengths, weaknesses, opportunities, and threats, and the analysis of achieved outcomes.

BUS 400. Applications of Technology 3
Explores the appropriate use and development of e-business strategies, networking and shared knowledge, and information management.

BUS 401. Organization Development and Change Management 3
Introduces the theoretical understanding of organizational behavior, with particular attention on the impact of change on individuals and the organization. Explores strategies for promoting development of the organization and capacities for responding to change.

BUS 403. Strategic Planning and Implementation 3
Begins with the development of tools for analyzing a company's competitive situation. Covers crafting and implementing a strategy, including managerial keys to successful execution.

Chemistry

CHM 113, 114. General Chemistry I, II 4, 4
The fundamental laws and theories of chemistry with correlated laboratory experiments. CHM 114 cannot be taken without credit for CHM 113.

CHM 215. Introductory Descriptive Chemistry 4
Coordination compounds, solid state, elementary thermodynamics, and descriptive inorganic chemistry. Prerequisite: CHM 114.

CHM 227. Intro to Quantitative Analysis 4
Fundamental laws related to analytical procedures: gravimetric, volumetric, and instrumental techniques are used in the laboratory. Prerequisite: CHM 114.

CHM 235. Environmental Chemistry 4
The chemistry of the atmosphere, soil, and water, with emphasis on how pollution, toxic chemicals, and energy production affect the environment. Laboratory emphasis on environmental monitoring and testing techniques. Prerequisite: CHM 114.

CHM 261. Internship 1-4
An initial outside-the-classroom experience enabling students to explore new areas or to supplement regular courses. Department approval required.

CHM 335, 336. Organic Chemistry 4, 4
The structure, mechanism, synthesis, and reactions of organic compounds. Prerequisite: CHM 114. CHM 336 cannot be taken without credit for CHM 335.

CHM 350. Research Methods in Chemistry 2
Overview of the process of scientific research and reporting. Prepares student for initiating an original research project for a senior thesis. Content includes exposure to primary literature, experimental design, approaches to data analysis, and reporting on findings. Career and graduate study options will be explored. Prerequisites: CHM 113, 114, 335; MTH 115, 116. Spring semester.

CHM 438. Introductory Biochemistry 4
The chemistry of the carbohydrates, lipids, proteins, enzymes, and their role in metabolism. Prerequisite: CHM 335. This course may count as either chemistry or biology, but not both.

CHM 441, 442. Physical Chemistry 4, 4
A mathematical approach to the laws and principles of chemistry. CHM 442 cannot be taken without credit for CHM 441. Prerequisites: CHM 215, 227, 336 and MTH 120.

CHM 450. Senior Seminar Presentation 1
Required of chemistry program seniors. Preparing and delivering reports on scientific studies. Students will produce written and oral reports on findings of original research. Prerequisites: CHM 350. Spring semester.

CHM 457, 458. Directed Readings 2-4
Selected readings directed by department faculty in the areas of analytical, biological, organic, and physical chemistry. Open to juniors and seniors.

CHM 460. Independent Study 4
Independent in-depth investigation, reading, and research in a professional area of interest. Department approval required. Open to junior or senior chemistry majors. Only one course of independent study may be counted toward the major.

CHM 461. Internship 4
A student/agency-originated and departmentally approved field-learning experience which enables students to apply previously attained knowledge and skills. A maximum of four semester hours may be used toward the major.

Communications

COM 231. Introduction to Public Speaking 3
A study of basic speech communication concepts as applied to public speaking for students wishing to enhance leadership potential in traditional public speaking situations. Course includes an analysis of and help in dealing with oral communication anxiety. Prerequisites: ENG 111. Spring/Fall.

COM 261. Internship 1-3
An initial exploratory, field-oriented experience enabling the student to attain certain specified learning goals in a work-related environment. Prerequisites: An S/U grading system will be used in this course. Spring/Fall.

COM 301. Mass Communication and Society 3
An overview of media history and the social and cultural aspects of media consumption, production and analysis. Covers contemporary issues like race, class and gender in the media.

COM 320. Interviewing and Reporting 3
This is a for-credit workshop joined to a real news outlet, the Hilltop. Course activities revolve around the production of articles for publication on the web, including conducting interviews, reporting, writing, and illustrating. Students have great latitude to pursue subjects that interest them. This course qualifies as a connector course in the category of Arts Experience.

COM 321. Documentary Writing 3
An introduction to the practice of documentary writing, relevant to careers in criminal justice, politics, business, religious leadership, psychology and community service. Activities include gathering information from interviews and secondary sources, and generation of illustrated, magazine-length articles. Readings include classic examples of literary non-fiction that may focus on class, gender, race and culture. Students have great latitude to pursue subjects that interest them. No prerequisites, although COM 320 or demonstrated writing ability are highly recommended.

COM 327, 329. Special Topics in Communication 3
Courses offered on a variety of topics not covered in regular courses. Prerequisites: COM 231, junior standing and departmental consent.

COM 400. Public Relations in Action 3
An introduction to the theory and practice of professional public relations. Examines the dynamics of targeted persuasions, public opinion, image repair, and specialized public relations writing formats. Prerequisites: COM 231, 320; BA 336, junior standing or departmental consent.

COM 457, 458. Directed Readings 1-3
Independent readings. Prerequisites: Consent of the instructor and the department.

COM 460. Independent Study 1-3
An independent program of study, research, and writing. Prerequisites: Consent of the instructor and the department.

COM 461. Professional Internship 3-6
Field-oriented experience enabling the student to apply pertinent knowledge and skills to specified learning goals in a work-related environment. Interns must fill out an internship proposal stating their goals and the methods for achieving and evaluating those goals. All internship proposals must be completed with the faculty advisor and the campus internship office at least one week prior to pre-registration. An S/U grading system will be used in this course.

Computer Science

CS 105. Web Page Design I 3
This first programming class introduces the HTML language for creating home pages on the Internet. Students will also complete a project applying HTML. This class is designed for all majors.

CS 110. Computer Science Concepts 3
Designed for computer science majors and non-majors with little or no prior introduction to computing and programming, this course introduces the basics of programming and problem solving. Students will learn the fundamental concepts of a structured programming language and will learn to solve problems using logic and good program design. Other topics include alternative programming paradigms, compiler concepts, history of computing, number systems, and the Linux operating system.

CS 111. Introduction to Computer Science I 3
An introduction to programming and problem solving using a high-level programming language. Emphasis will be on program design, algorithm development and good programming habits and techniques. The characteristics and organization of modern digital computers are also studied.

CS 112. Introduction to Computer Science II 3
A continuation of CS 111. Students will continue their study of the high-level language studied in CS 111. Continued emphasis on program design, algorithm development and good programming habits and techniques. Students will write programs that are more challenging and complex than those written in CS 111. Prerequisite CS 111.

CS 200. Computer Applications for Education 4
The purpose of this course is to provide knowledge and skills which will equip teachers to use computing technology effectively in the classroom. Prerequisite or co-requisite: ED 202 or 203.

CS 205. Web Page Design II 3
Further studies including site planning, page design for various browsers, image mapping and style sheets. Advanced HTML for frames, graphics and animated GIFs are covered along with an introduction to Javascript. Prerequisite: CS 157.

CS 220. Data Structures 3
Sorting, searching, linked lists, stacks, queues, and trees. Prerequisite: CS 111.

CS 221. Computer Organization 3
Covers computer organization in a bottom-up fashion. Topics include number systems, binary arithmetic, Boolean algebra, digital logic design, combinational and sequential circuits, registers, processor components, program control, assembly language programming, microprogramming, and stored programs. Prerequisites: MTH 217, CS 112.

CS 229. Computer Support 3
Computer hardware and LAN hardware are covered. Peripherals and hardware installation and help-desk support are also included. Students participate in a complete network installation and setup. Prerequisite/corequisite: BA 202.

CS 230. System Administration 3
This course will provide the student with an overview of the Linux Operating System and the fundamentals to properly manage a UNIX-based environment. Topics of discussion include: history of UNIX and Linux, file systems, users, devices, hardware management, network functionality, and operating a secure system. This course will also cover basic scripting languages and show how they can be used to manage a UNIX-like system. Prerequisite: CS 111.

CS 250. Introduction to Geographic Information Systems 4
An introduction to the theory and practice of analysis of spatial information using the technology of geographic information systems (GIS). There is an emphasis on hands-on learning using GIS software, hard copy maps, and data from several disciplines. Laboratory. Prerequisites: MTH 113 or MTH 115, CS 200 or BA 202, or permission of instructor.

CS 253. Multimedia I 3
Multimedia applications which focus on the creation of presentations via desktop publishing and slide generating software. Computer graphic images and their manipulation are introduced.

CS 261. Internship 3
An initial outside-the-classroom experience. Time will be spent in support of the campus technology infrastructure and support system. Prerequisite: CS 229 and Sophomore standing.

CS 302. Systems Analysis and Design 3
An introduction to the systems development life cycle, analysis of business functions, utilization of project management tools for analysis and systems design, and strategies for systems design and implementation. Students participate in team projects, class interaction, and the design and creation of a simulated application. Prerequisite/Corequisite: CS 253, CS 315.

CS 303. Systems Design and Implementation 3
A continuation of CS 302 with an emphasis on design and implementation. Students complete the team design project initiated in CS 302. Prerequisite: CS 302.

CS 305. Programming for the World Wide Web 3
Topics include CGI interfaces, web site creation, security, transaction processing, managing an intranet or internet presence for an organization, and content preparation tools. Prerequisites: CS 253 and CS 205.

CS 307. Data Communications 3
Data communications across all communications technology is included. Networks, both LAN and WAN, are covered along with EDI standards such as: ANSI, EDIFACT, and HL7. The OSI model is explored. Intranets and the Internet are also discussed.

CS 315. Database Management Systems 3
The fundamental concepts of DBMS, DBMS organizations and their capabilities, general database theory and implementation techniques. Students will design and create a database using MS-ACCESS as a team project. Prerequisite: CS 112

CS 321. Advanced Programming I 3
An in-depth study of a modern, high-level, object-oriented programming language. Emphasis will be on practical application of concepts learned in CS 111, CS 112, and CS 220. There will be continued emphasis on good program design, algorithm development and good programming habits and techniques. Graphical user interfaces will also be introduced, as well as programming using an integrated developer environment. Prerequisite: CS 220

CS 322. Advanced Programming II 3
A continuation of the in-depth study of a modern, high-level, object-oriented programming language. Emphasis will be on practical application of concepts learned in CS 111, CS 112, CS 220, and CS 321. There will be continued emphasis on good program design, algorithm development and good programming habits and techniques. Graphical user interfaces will also be studied in greater depth. Prerequisite: CS 321

CS 327, 328, 329. Special Topics 2
Options for students to study, according to their interest, a variety of topics not covered in regular courses. To be announced by the department. Prerequisite: varies depending upon topic. Departmental approval required.

CS 330. Operating Systems 3
This course provides an introduction to operating systems including their concepts, design, and implementation. Topics include process management, storage and memory management, I/O, distributed systems, and security. The class will also include some systems programming projects. Prerequisites: CS 220, CS 221.

CS 340 Theory of Computation 3
This course presents the theoretical foundations of computing. Topics include finite automata, regular sets, push-down automata, context-free languages, Turing machines, and language hierarchy. Other topics may include an introduction to countability, diagonalization, and undecidability as time permits. Prerequisites: CS 220, CS 221, MTH 217.

CS 421 Software Design 3
This course will build on the programming language taught in CS 321 and CS 322. Rather than a study of the language itself, these courses will focus on the design aspect of programming. In this course students will engage in the team development of several large software projects, learning common design methodologies, and using team design tools in the process. Prerequisites: CS 321, CS 322.

CS 450. Seminar 3
Presentation of oral reports and discussion of topics in computer science. Departmental approval and Senior standing required.

CS 457, 458. Directed Readings 2-3
Independent readings directed by members of the department faculty. Departmental approval required.

CS 460. Independent Study 2-3
Independent in-depth investigation, reading, and research in a professional area of interest. Departmental approval required.

CS 461. Professional Internship 2-6

Review of fundamental principles of grammar with reading and composition practice. Prerequisite: GER 113 (in special cases may be taken with GER 113).

GER 225. Survey of German Literature 3
Survey of German literature from Tacitus to Grass. Prerequisite: GER 113 or permission of instructor.

GER 261. Internship 2-4
See FRN 261.

GER 320. Business German 3
Basic business practices; German business letters, forms, and articles of varying complexity; and composition of simple, yet standard, business letters in German. Prerequisite: German 113.

GER 327. Special Topics 1-4
See French 327.

GER 457. Directed Readings 3
See French 457.

GER 458. Tutorials In Special Problems 1-4
See French 458.

GER 459. Senior Seminar 1-8
See French 459.

GER 460. Independent Study 1-4
See French 460.

GER 461. Internship 4-8
See French 461.

Greek

GRK 111. Elementary Greek I 3
Daily drill: pronunciation, vocabulary, paradigms, emphasis on verb forms and grammatical constructions of Koine Greek. Alternate years.

GRK 112. Elementary Greek II 3
Continuation of Greek 111 with added emphasis on accidence and readings in the New Testament, including word building, studies in syntax, and an exegesis in I John. Alternate years.

GRK 327. Special Topics 3
Options for students to study, according to their interests, a variety of topics not covered in regular courses, e.g. Greek New Testament. Offered on demand.

GRK 457, 458. Directed Readings 2-3

GRK 460. Independent Study 3
An individual program of reading and research directed by a member of the department faculty and approved by the department chairperson.

Health

HEA 220. Safety and Supervision 2
The study, practice, and application of the standards and accepted principles in the American National Red Cross standard first aid, CPR for professional rescuers, and community water safety. A unit on blood-borne pathogens will also be included in this course. (Students who have current certification in any of these areas may submit them for consideration toward meeting the requirements of this course.)

HEA 222. Basic Athletic Injuries 2
Designed to enhance the student's knowledge of the different domains of Athletic Training and to introduce commonly seen athletic injuries in each body part.

HEA 233. Health Education 3
The study of current health issues and methods of teaching health education at the elementary, middle, and secondary school level. Designed specifically for teacher preparation and athletic training majors, it will include study of the consolidated School Health Program, health education programs and curriculum, Personnel and Community Health issues and methodology and materials for instruction. It will include guest speakers from the various CSHP components and/or 3-8 visits to various health agencies and schools. Sophomore status or above.

HEA 332. Adapted Physical Education 3
Designed for instructing the handicapped individual and for providing the prospective teacher with leadership, competencies, and a diversified program of developmental activities, games, sports, gymnastics, and dance suited to the interests, capacities, and limitations of students with disabilities which may prevent their engaging in the activities of the general physical education program. Experiences include observations of and practical experiences with exceptional students. Visits to various programs/schools will be required. Prerequisites: HEA 220, 222, 233, Junior status or above.

Hebrew

HEB 115. Hebrew I 3
Introduction to biblical Hebrew. Offered by special arrangement.

HEB 116. Hebrew II 3
Continuation of Hebrew 115 with emphasis on readings from the biblical text. Offered by special arrangement.

HEB 327. Special Topics 3
Options for students to study, according to their interests, a variety of topics not covered in regular courses. To be announced by the department.

History

HIS 202. North Carolina History and Government 3
Examines the historical, economic, and political development of the state. Special emphasis is placed on the techniques, materials, resources, and strategies that may be employed in teaching similar subjects in elementary and secondary schools. Fall.

HIS 204. Latin American History and Geography 3
An introductory survey course that examines the history and geography of Latin America.
HIS 223, 224. United States History 3,3
The development of the United States as a democratic republic and a world power, from the time of settlement to the present. A prerequisite for all other courses in American history.

HIS 261. Internship 3
An initial program of field work enabling students to explore new areas or to supplement regular courses. Department approval required.

HIS 292. World History to 1500 3
Examines the chronological narrative of the development of the major classical core civilizations and the major nomadic societies of the world. In addition to the rise and fall of these societies, the course emphasizes the first “global” civilization of early Islam, and the preponderant role of the Mongol empire on neighboring societies.

HIS 293. World History since 1500 3
A survey of modern history from a world perspective with emphases on the interaction of Western Civilization with the rest of the world, including the commercial revolution, slavery, imperialism, and the revolution against colonialism.

HIS 327. Special Topics: U.S. History 3
Options for students to study, according to their interests, a variety of topics not covered in regular courses. To be announced by the department.

HIS 328. Special Topics: World History 3
Options for students to study, according to their interests, a variety of topics not covered in regular courses. To be announced by the department.

HIS 329. Special Topics: European History 3
Options for students to study, according to their interests, a variety of topics not covered in regular courses. To be announced by the department.

HIS 330. Women in the American Experience 3
This course will introduce students to the history of women by examining how the experiences, roles, and status of women have been shaped historically by race, class, geography, religion, and other social factors.

HIS 337. Renaissance and Reformation 3

HIS 338. Early Modern Europe 3
A survey of Europe emphasizing the interaction of ideas and social forces. Absolutism and aristocracy will be examined as factors leading to the Revolution of 1789. Leading personalities from Louis XIV to Napoleon will receive special emphasis.

HIS 340. Twentieth-Century Europe 3
The decline and rise of Europe from World War I to the era of detente. Emphasis on social and intellectual changes that reformed European society after World War II. Examines the rise of totalitarianism and social democracy through Hitler, Churchill, Brandt and others.

HIS 349. Appalachian Oral History 3
Examining people and the history of the region with major emphasis on the culture of the area.

HIS 350. African-American History 3
An introduction to the social, cultural, and political history of African-Americans from the colonies to the present.

HIS 401. Contemporary Latin America 3
Examines the important political, economic and social issues and themes that have generally affected the history of twentieth-century Latin America.

HIS 402. History of Mexico 3
Surveys Mexican history from pre-Hispanic period to the present by examining political, economic, and social issues.

HIS 403. Latin American Women 3
Examines the historical experiences of women in Latin America from pre-Hispanic times until the present through the theoretical lenses of race, class, and gender.

HIS 417. The United States, 1945 to the Present 3
Contemporary America, a period of social and economic reforms, of war and troubled peace.

HIS 429. United States Diplomacy in the Twentieth Century 3
A survey of American diplomatic relations in the twentieth century with emphases on American imperialism, isolationism, involvement in World Wars I and II, and the Cold War. The course will end with an examination of American policies in the post-Cold War era.

HIS 430. U.S. Environmental History 3
Examines the relationships between Americans and their environments in the five hundred years since European-American contact, emphasizing how environments have shaped human history and vice versa.

HIS 441. World Slavery 3
Examines the evolution of coerced labor systems throughout the world from Mesopotamia to the Twenty-first Century, with an emphasis on slavery’s influence on the concepts of freedom, race, and progress.

HIS 442. The Atlantic World 3
Examines the cultural, economic, and political interaction of peoples, the free and unfree migrations, the exchange of products, and the ecological impact between Western Europe, West Africa, and North America and the Caribbean between 1500–1800.

HIS 452. History of Modern Japan 3
History of Japan from 1800 to the present emphasizing the impact of Western imperialism on Japan’s traditional culture, the Meiji Restoration and modernization, the growth of militarism and World War II, and the emergence of Japan as an economic super power in the post-war era. The course also explores Japanese-American relations during the period.

HIS 456. History of Modern China 3
History of China from 1800 to the present emphasizing the impact of Western imperialism on China’s traditional culture, the 1911 Revolution and subsequent communist revolution, and the policies of the Peoples’ Republic of China. The course also explores Chinese-American relations during the period.

HIS 457. Directed Readings in U.S. History 3
Independent readings directed by members of the history faculty and approved by the department.

HIS 458. Directed Readings in European History 3
Independent readings directed by members of the history faculty.

HIS 459. Directed Readings in World History 3
Independent readings directed by members of the history faculty.

HIS 460. Independent Study 3

HIS 461. Internship 3

HIS 491. Senior Seminar 3
The capstone course in which students will undertake a major research project. This paper will examine a historical problem—usually concerning local history, utilize primary sources, and demonstrate sufficient writing skills.

International Studies

INS 300. International Study/Foreign Country 1-12
Students register for INS 300 when they are participating in a credit granting Study Abroad program approved by the college.

INS 450. Seminar in International Studies 3
This is the capstone course for International Studies majors. There are four distinct goals for the seminar. Students in the class analyze the results of their term or year abroad, examine the character of cross-cultural communication, synthesize learning begun in other classes on major world regions, and develop an in-depth understanding of a critical contemporary issue by studying it through cross-disciplinary perspectives.

Liberal Arts in Action

LAA 101. Reflective Life Seminar (ACCESS Students Only) 3
An introduction to the meaning of a liberal arts education, especially in relation to the life, experience, and prospective goals of students in the continuing education program. Must be taken in the first or second semester after the student enrolls in ACCESS.

LAA 111. Challenges 3
As the first semester freshman seminar, the course has three objectives. The first is to introduce students to the liberal arts in the context of the Mars Hill College community. The second is to introduce students to the processes of inquiry and ways of knowing. The third is to help students connect to the college in a variety of ways that promote character development, service, and responsible citizenship. Offered both semesters.
LAA 121. Character 3
This course explores the notion of character from a variety of liberal arts disciplines and in cross-cultural perspectives. Classic answers to the questions, “What is human nature?” and “What is a good person?” are examined and then tested against complex case studies involving issues such as war, race and gender. Offered both semesters.

LAA 221. Civic Life 3
The course examines the fundamental idea of what is a good society from historical and cross-cultural perspectives. Fundamental issues of study are the rights and responsibilities of individuals, communities, and states. The case studies in the course focus on a particular society and explore and analyze it politically, sociologically, culturally, ecologically, and philosophically. Offered fall semester only.

LAA 231. Critique: Faith and Reason 3
The goal of this course is to use a historical framework to explore the dynamics of faith and reason in the western tradition, beginning with the ancient Greeks and moving forward to today’s post-modern world. Aural, visual, and written material provide the conceptual framework for examining the forces that have shaped the course of western thought. Offered spring semester only.

LAA 321. Creativity 3
The course explores human creative activity and innovation in a historical and cultural context. Students study the external aspects of creativity—what is it, how is it represented, and how the liberal arts disciplines express creativity—and explore ways of nurturing and exploring their own creativity and imagination in their lives and work. Offered fall and spring semesters.

LAA Capstone Requirement
The goal of the requirement is to provide the opportunity for students to demonstrate advanced critical thinking, writing and oral communication skills. It can be met through a variety of means including the senior seminar in the major, an interdisciplinary capstone course, an internship, a significant service-learning project, international study and travel, or field and lab experience/research.

Mathematics

MTH 101. Basic Mathematics 3
Intermediate algebra and computation skills with applications in statistics, probability, geometry, trigonometry, and logic. Emphasis on problem-solving technique and extensive use of graphic calculators. Students already possessing these skills may demonstrate competence without taking this course. *Does NOT meet General Education requirement for mathematics.

MTH 107. Finite Mathematics 3
Selected topics including an introduction to descriptive statistics, collecting and interpreting data, finite probability and logical reasoning. Prerequisite: MTH 101 or a rating of 2 on the APT.

MTH 113. Precalculus 4
Fundamentals of algebraic and trigonometric functions and their applications. Intended to prepare students for Math 115, Calculus I. Prerequisite: Rating of 2 on APT. Does not meet general education requirement for mathematics.

MTH 115. Calculus I 5
Fundamentals of calculus including limits, continuity, differentiation, and integration. Prerequisite: MTH 113 or a rating of 3 on the APT.

MTH 116. Elementary Probability and Statistics 4
An introduction to the ideas and application of probability and statistics. This course is designed especially for students interested in natural science, social science, or business. Prerequisite: MTH 115.

MTH 120. Calculus II 5
A continuation of Math 115 with emphasis on techniques of integration, vector calculus, partial differentiation, and multiple integrals. Prerequisite: MTH 115.

MTH 203. Elementary Geometry 3
Geometric figures, measurement, transformations, and constructions. Prerequisite: MTH 107 or 115.

MTH 204. Teaching Number Systems 3
Patterns and reasoning in problem solving, the real number operations, elementary number theory, numeration systems, teaching methods, and consumer language. Prerequisite: MTH 107 or 115.

MTH 207. Finite Mathematics II 3
Mathematical applications that may include topics from algebra, consumer mathematics, an introduction to game theory, topics in management mathematics, and an introduction to mathematical analysis of voting systems. Prerequisite: MTH 107.

MTH 217. Discrete Mathematics 3
Designed to introduce students to mathematical thinking using topics in discrete mathematics. Content includes sets, functions, logic and logic circuits, relations, combinatorics, and graph theory. Prerequisite: MTH 115.

MTH 218. Applied Linear Algebra 3
Matrices, determinants, vector spaces, linear transformations, eigenvalues, and eigenvectors. Prerequisite: MTH 115.

MTH 220. Calculus III 5
A rigorous development of calculus including limits, continuity, differentiation, integration, sequences, and series. Prerequisite: MTH 120.

MTH 261. Internship 3-9
An initial outside-the-classroom experience enabling students to explore new areas or to supplement regular courses. Department approval required.

MTH 316. Statistical Methods II 3
Multiple regressions, analysis of variance, factorial experimentation. Prerequisite: MTH 116.

MTH 323. Advanced Calculus I 3
Topics include elementary topology, continuity, uniform continuity, differentiation and integration. Prerequisite: MTH 220.

MTH 324. Advanced Calculus II 3
Topics include series, uniform convergence, transformations, and vector calculus. Prerequisite: MTH 323.

MTH 325. Complex Variables 3
Topics include the algebra and topology of complex numbers, analytic functions, complex integration, and residue theory. Prerequisite: MTH 217.

MTH 327, MTH 328. Special Topics 3
Options for students to study, according to their interests, a variety of topics not covered in regular courses. To be announced by the department.

MTH 329. Foundations of Geometry 3
Euclidean, spherical, and hyperbolic geometry with emphasis on the rigorous axiomatic development of geometry. Prerequisite: MTH 120.

MTH 331. Introduction to Abstract Algebra 3
An introduction to the theory of groups, rings, and fields and other algebraic structures. Prerequisite: MTH 217.

MTH 332. Abstract Algebra II 3
Continuation of Math 331, with special emphasis on linear algebra. Prerequisite: MTH 331.

MTH 335. Introduction to the Theory of Numbers 3
Topics usually include prime numbers, linear and quadratic congruencies, and diophantine equations. Prerequisite: MTH 217.

MTH 337. Differential Equations 3
Theory and applications of ordinary differential equations. Prerequisite: MTH 120.

MTH 341. Probability Theory 3
Topics include axiomatic development of probability, conditional probability, combinatorial theory, random variables, expectation, certain discrete and continuous distributions, functions of random variables, jointly distributed random variables, and limit theorems, Prerequisite: MTH 220.

MTH 342. Mathematical Statistics 3
Topics include estimation, hypothesis testing, linear models, the analysis of variance, analysis of enumerative data, and nonparametric statistics. Prerequisite: MTH 341.

MTH 450. Seminar 3
Presentation of oral reports and discussion of topics in mathematics.

MTH 457, 458. Directed Readings 3
Independent readings directed by members of the department faculty.

MTH 460. Independent Study 3
Independent in-depth investigation, reading, and research in a professional area of interest. Department approval required.

Music

MUS 098. Elements of Music I 3
Five lab hours. A course designed for preparatory study leading to Music Theory 111. Fundamentals of pitch notation, rhythmic notation, simple meter, scales, and intervals Offered on demand. Fall.

MUS 111. Music Theory I 3
Three lecture hours. Fundamentals of tonal theory including pitch notation, scales, key signatures, triads, intervals, rhythmic notation, and four-part vocal writing with primary triads in root position. Prerequisite: Successful completion of departmental theory placement examination.

MUS 112. Music Theory II 3
Three lecture hours. Completion of studies of the diatonic vocabulary: triads, seventh chords, inversion, figured bass, and non-chord tones. Prerequisite: MUS 111.

MUS 113. Aural Skills Lab I 1
Two lab hours. Basics of sightsinging and listening skills. Emphasis on intervals, rhythms, and melodic lines. Concentration upon rhythm reading, rhythm dictation, and rhythm notation. Fall.

MUS 114. Aural Skills Lab II 1
Two lab hours. Development of tonal sightsinging and dictation with emphasis on scalar and triadic materials. Prerequisite: MUS 113. Spring.

MUS 116. Percussion Montage 1
Performance styles and techniques of all percussion instruments.

MUS 131. English Diction for Singers 1
2 lab hours. Introduction to the rules of English diction including exercises in pronunciation, accentuation, and transcription using the International Phonetic Alphabet (IPA). Fall.

MUS 132. Estill Voice Craft 1
2 lab hours. Anatomy and physiology of the vocal mechanism using Estill Voice Craft Compulsory Figures for Voice™. Prerequisite MUS 131. Spring.

MUS 133. Italian/German Diction for Singers 1
2 lab hours. Introduction to the rules of Italian and German diction including exercises in pronunciation, accentuation, and transcription using the International Phonetic Alphabet (IPA). Prerequisite: MUS 131. Fall.

MUS 134. French/Spanish Diction for Singers 1
2 lab hours. Introduction to the rules of French and Spanish diction including exercises in pronunciation, accentuation, and transcription using the International Phonetic Alphabet (IPA). Prerequisite: MUS 131. On demand.

MUS 135. Singer on Stage I 1
MUST BE TAKEN IN SEQUENCE
1 lab hour. Applied course designed for the singer/actor to develop speech, sob/cry and belt voice qualities using Estill Voice Craft system. Repertory drawn from musical theatre literature. Prerequisites: MUS 131, MUS 132. Fall.

MUS 136. Singer on Stage II 1
MUST BE TAKEN IN SEQUENCE
1 lab hour. Continuing applied course designed for the singer/actor to develop nasal twang and oral twang voice qualities using Estill Voice Craft system. Repertory drawn from musical theatre literature. Prerequisites: MUS 131, MUS 132, MUS 135. Spring.

MUS 137. Singer on Stage III 1
MUST BE TAKEN IN SEQUENCE
1 lab hour. Continuing applied course designed for the singer/actor to explore jazz as a vocal style using Estill Voice Craft system. Brief history of jazz singer, improvisational techniques including scat, and microphone technique. Prerequisites: MUS 131, MUS 132, MUS 135, MUS 136. Fall.

MUS 138. Singer on Stage IV 1
MUST BE TAKEN IN SEQUENCE
Continuing course designed for the singer/actor to prepare vocal literature for public performance using the Estill Voice Craft system. Repertory drawn from international song and operatic literature. Prerequisites: MUS 131, MUS 132, MUS 135, MUS 136, MUS 137. Spring.

MUS 139. Musical Theatre Scenes 1
MAY BE REPEATED
1 hour lab. Applied course for Musical Theatre majors that includes performance of scenes involving acting, singing, and dancing. Repertoire drawn from solo and ensemble literature. Prerequisites: TA 112, TA 117, TA 131. Fall, Spring.

MUS 140. Piano Practicum 1
1 hour weekly lab. this lab will include weekly performance opportunities in solo and ensemble literature. In addition to weekly performance, students will study topics such as pedagogy, accompanying, literature and history of piano. Required for all keyboard majors. May be repeated for credit.

MUS 175. Voice Class for Non-majors 1
Introduction to basics of singing, techniques and repertoire. Prerequisite: Permission of instructor. Fall. May be repeated.

MUS 177. Class Piano 1
Two lab hours. Basic keyboard introduction; required of all non-keyboard majors and minors until the student is prepared for MUS 273. May be repeated for credit. Students may be exempted by examination. Fall.

MUS 201. Accompanying 1
Keyboard accompanying techniques and problems. Appropriate performance opportunities presented. Permission of instructor.

MUS 211. Music Theory III 3
Three lecture hours. Chromatic harmony and techniques of modulation. Prerequisite: MUS 112.

MUS 213. Aural Skills Lab III 1
Continuation of sightsinging and ear training, including dictation. Spring.

MUS 214. Aural Skills Lab IV 1
Continuation of sightsinging and ear training, including four-part dictation. Required for choral, vocal, and keyboard majors. Prerequisite: MUS 213. Fall.

MUS 217. Music Technology 3
Three lab hours. Designed to help music students acquire knowledge and skills which will equip them to use computing and music technology effectively. Topics include MIDI instruments and systems, MIDI sequencing notation, automatic accompaniment software, the use of the Internet as a resource for music education, constructing a simple web page, and digital recording and editing techniques. Music education majors will begin the process of creating the electronic portfolio as required licensure. Prerequisite: MUS 112, MTH 107, ENG 112.

MUS 218. World Music 3
World music is a hands-on, experiential course. Students will experience musical, cultural, and religious traditions through drumming circles, reading, and listening.

MUS 261. Internship 1-4
An initial outside-the-classroom experience enabling students to explore new areas or to supplement regular courses. Department approval required.

MUS 273. Professional Keyboard Skills 1
Two lab hours. Basic techniques of harmonizing simple melodies at the keyboard. Required of all non-keyboard majors and minors. The goal is to prepare students for the Piano Proficiency Exam, which must be attempted to complete requirements. May be repeated for credit. Prerequisite: MUS 177 or permission of instructor. Spring.

MUS 309, 310. Form and Analysis I, II 2, 2
MUST BE TAKEN IN SEQUENCE Two lecture hours. Analytical techniques for music of the common practice period. Prerequisite: MUS 211.

MUS 311, 312. Music History I, II 3, 3
MUST BE TAKEN IN SEQUENCE Three lecture hours. Emphasis on chronological perspective from Gregorian chant through the Romantic period. Essentially an historical approach with considerable attention to listening analysis. Prerequisite: MUS 211.

MUS 315. Score Preparation 2
Topics include instrument transposition, ranges, and score layouts; the creation of musical scores for standard instrumental and choral ensembles through basic techniques of arranging and transcription. A method of score study for the prospective conductor of choral or instrumental ensembles is also presented.

MUS 318. Jazz Improvisation 2
Offered on demand.

MUS 327. Special Topics 1-4
Options for students to study a variety of topics not covered in regular courses. To be announced.

MUS 335, 336. Service Playing 1, 1
Techniques and materials used in playing for church services. Offered on Demand. Organ principals only.

MUS 337. String Techniques 1
Two lab hours. Playing techniques and teaching methods on stringed instruments and guitar. For all Music Education majors. On demand.

MUS 338. Instrumental Techniques 1
Two lab hours. Designed for all music education students. The course offers introductory levels of playing techniques and teaching methods for instrumental music in the public schools. On demand.

MUS 340. Advanced Brass Techniques 1
Two lab hours. Playing techniques and teaching methods. For the Music Education major whose Principal Instrument AMU is wind, percussion, or strings. Prerequisite: MUS 338.

MUS 342. Advanced Woodwind Techniques 1
Two lab hours. Playing techniques and teaching methods. For the Music Education major whose Principal Instrument AMU is wind, percussion, or strings. Prerequisite: MUS 338.

MUS 344. Advanced Percussion Techniques 1
Two lab hours. Playing techniques and teaching methods. For the Music Education major whose Principal Instrument AMU is wind or strings. Prerequisite: MUS 338.

MUS 345. Vocal Techniques 1
Two lab hours. Basic singing techniques and teaching methods. For Music Education majors whose principal applied music instrument is other than voice. Offered on demand.

MUS 349. Organ Techniques 1
One lecture hour. Introduction to techniques and characteristics of the organ. For students whose AMU Principal Instrument is other than organ. Offered on Demand.

MUS 353. Choral Conducting 2
Three lab hours. Conducting techniques and procedures for the choral director. Includes score reading, rehearsal preparation and techniques, programming, and application of vocal techniques to choral singing. Prerequisite: MUS 211, 214.

MUS 354. Advanced Choral Conducting 2
Three lab hours. Continuation of MUS 353. Prerequisite: MUS 353.

MUS 355. Instrumental Conducting 2
Three lab hours. Conducting techniques and procedures for the instrumental director. Includes score reading, rehearsal preparation and techniques, programming, and application of instrumental techniques to ensemble playing.

MUS 356. Advanced Instrumental Conducting 2
Three lab hours. Continuation of MUS 355. Prerequisite: MUS 355.

MUS 360. Music for the Elementary Classroom Teacher 3
Three lecture hours. Music fundamentals and methods for the elementary classroom teacher. Not open to music majors. Fall, Spring.

MUS 374. Keyboard Skills for the Choral Director 1
Two lab hours. Development of accompanying skill appropriate for the choral director. For all Music Education majors with a choral emphasis. Spring. Prerequisite: MUS 273 and completion of Piano Proficiency Exam.

MUS 375. Accompanying for the Elementary Music Class 1
Two lab hours. Development of accompanying skill on the guitar and piano sufficient to accompany songs for elementary children. Required of all Elementary Music Education majors. Prerequisite: MUS 273. On demand.

MUS 376. Handbells 1
Two lab hours. Playing techniques and literature for the handbell choir. Offered on demand.

MUS 380. Church Music History 2
Two lecture hours. The history of music in the Christian church and its position as a functional part of the service. Offered on demand.

MUS 381. Church Music Administration 3
Three lecture hours. Overview of the principal areas of responsibility in managing a church music program. Offered on demand.

MUS 390. Junior Recital - Performance Majors 1
Recital of 40-55 minutes on the major instrument. Must also be enrolled in AMU 391 or 392 at the time of the recital.

MUS 410. Contemporary Music 2
Two lecture hours. A survey of music of the 20th and 21st centuries. The course explores forms, genres, style, theoretical principles, compositional materials and procedures within a historical context. Course content will include music of both western and non-western musical traditions. Prerequisites: MUS 211, 312. Fall. This course is required of all music majors and fulfills the LAA capstone requirement.

MUS 413. Counterpoint 2
Survey of modal and tonal contrapuntal techniques and genres. Prerequisite: MUS 211. Offered on demand.

MUS 415. Composition 2
The devices and processes used in the composition of music. Prerequisite: MUS 211. Offered on demand.

MUS 417. Using Computers in the Music Classroom 2
A summer class which meets in a workshop setting: five consecutive days with six contact hours each day. The course serves as a source of certificate renewal credit. Topics include an introduction to the Musical Instrument Digital Interface, sequencing, recording, notation printing, computer specifications, electronic instruments, creating classroom tools with technology, and an introductory experience with music education resources on the Internet.

MUS 441. Principles of Music Education 3
Three lecture hours. Basic approaches, materials, and other resources for Elementary, Choral, and Instrumental Music Education. Required for all Music Education majors. On demand.

MUS 443. Elementary Music Methods 2
Two lecture hours. Methods and materials for elementary general, vocal music in schools, grades K-8. Required of all Elementary Music Education majors. Elective for others. On demand.

MUS 445. Choral Music Methods 2
Two lecture hours. Methods and materials for the choral performance in schools, grades 5-12. Required for all Choral Music Education majors. Elective for others. On demand.

MUS 447. Instrumental Music Methods 2
Two lecture hours. Methods and materials for the instrumental performance group in schools, grades 5-12. Required for all Instrumental Music Education majors. Elective for others. Fall.

MUS 449. Marching Band Techniques 1
Marching band techniques and practices. Elective for Instrumental Music Education majors. Offered on demand.

MUS 457, 458. Directed Readings 1-4
Independent readings directed by members of the department faculty.

MUS 460. Independent Study 1-4
Independent in-depth investigation, reading, and research in a professional area of interest. Department approval required.

MUS 461. Internship 1-4
A student/agency-originated and departmentally-approved field-learning experience which enables students to apply previously attained knowledge and skills.

MUS 467. Instrumental Music of the Southern Mountains 3
Traditional string band styles and styles of fiddle, guitar, and banjo playing. Offered on demand for Regional Studies minor.

MUS 468. Ballads, Folksongs, and Christian Harmony Singing in the Southern Mountains 3
Elizabethan and traditional ballads and folksongs still present in the Southern mountains. Also, a study of the Christian Harmony and other shape-note traditions. Offered on demand.

MUS 469. Appalachian Smooth and Clog Dancing 1
Performance of traditional and choreographed square dances.

Applied music lessons are available in guitar, banjo, and fiddle.

MUS 490. Senior Recital - Performance Majors 1
Recital of approximately 55 minutes on the principal instrument. Must also be enrolled in AMU 491 or 492 at the time of the recital.

MLIT. Literature of the Applied Instrument 2, 2
Two consecutive semesters; required for the Performance major. Survey of the historical development and literature of the student's applied instrument. Prerequisite: Junior or senior status in applied music. Offered on demand.

MPED. Pedagogy of the Applied Instrument 2
Required for the Performance major. Survey of teaching methods and materials for the student's applied instrument. Prerequisite: Junior or senior status in applied music. Offered on demand.

Designed for the Elementary Education Major, this course will include both Health and Physical Education methodology and materials as well as certification in first aid and CPR. It will include study of the Consolidated School Health Program and teaching of low level games and activities as a part of the general classroom curriculum. It will include 5-10 visits to local elementary schools.

PE 338. Measurement and Evaluation in Health and Physical Education 3

Techniques used in measuring and evaluating performance in the psychomotor, cognitive, and affective domains. Elementary statistical procedures will be covered in order to analyze and interpret test scores. Appropriate methods for determining grades in health and physical education will be presented along with techniques for data collection and treatment for research.

PE 413. The Teaching of Health and Physical Education in the Middle and Secondary Programs 3

Understanding and application of methods and materials in middle and secondary school health and physical education. Observation, participation, and practical kinds of experiences will be a part of this course including 5-10 visits to local high school programs.

PE 441. Organization and Administration of Health, Physical Education and Athletics 3

Procedures for organizing and administering the health and physical education and athletic programs including class organization, staff relations; budget and financing, facilities and equipment, and program of instruction. Prerequisites: PE 221, senior status.

PE 450. Physical Education Internship 12

A professional field experience with an off campus agency specializing in the business of sport or physical education. Designed to enable the Sports Management or Sports Science major to relate theory to practice. Prior to agency assignment the internship experience will be designed by the departmental faculty supervisor, in consultation with the student. Prerequisites: Senior status and all major course work completed; overall GPA of 2.0.

PE 457,458. Directed Readings 1-3
Independent readings directed by members of the department faculty. Materials may be obtained from the department chairperson.

PE 460. Independent Study 1-3

An opportunity for the outstanding student to pursue professional interest areas in some degree of depth. Laboratory equipment will be available for use in project developments. Library research in the form of an undergraduate thesis will be required. Elective credit only. Materials may be obtained from the department chairperson.

Physics

PHY 223. General Physics I 4
Mechanics, heat and wave motion with laboratory work. Prerequisite: MTH 115 or permission of instructor.

PHY 224. General Physics II 4
Electricity, magnetism, light and an introduction to modern physics with laboratory work. Prerequisite: PHY 223.

Political Science

PS 101-105. Experiential Group Learning 2-3
Academic/experiential involvement in contemporary issues. Domestic and/or foreign travel included.

Psychology

PSY 111. General Psychology 3
Historical psychological systems; genetic and environmental interaction; motivation and emotions, sensory development and functions; learning and forgetting; personality structure, theories, and disorders; and other topics appropriate to an introduction to scientific psychology. Fall and Spring.

PSY 221. Mental Functions and Adaptive Behavior 3
Topics covered range from pre-adapted behaviors, to reflex and operant learning, to complex language learning and thinking within social contexts and in conjunction with technological inventions which amplify human performances. The mind is understood as a biological aptitude taking shape within a socio-cultural and technological environment. Prerequisite: PSY 111. Fall.

PSY 222. Biological Bases of Behavior 3
The biological structures and processes which underlie and produce performances. The focus is on behavior: motivation, emotion, perception, and cognition and how these events are affected by neural, metabolic, homeostatic, and evolutionary processes. Prerequisites: PSY 111 and NS 111 or BIO 113. Spring.

PSY 304. Experimental Psychology 3
A research project is planned, executed, and reported by the student. The process includes preparing a proposal, collecting and analyzing data, writing a scientific report, and making an oral presentation. All activities are critiqued in a seminar format. Also examined in seminar sessions are ethical and other philosophical issues which are relevant to understanding the uses, advantages, and limitations of scientific methods in psychology. Prerequisite: BSS 220. Spring.

PSY 308. Social Psychology 3
The mental processes or behavior of persons insofar as these are controlled, influenced, or limited by past or present interaction with other persons. Prerequisites: SOC 111 or PSY 111. Spring.

PSY 311. Personality Theory 3
An analysis of the major psychological theories of human nature including psychodynamic, interpersonal, behavioral, humanistic, and trait theories. Pre-requisite: PSY 111 and a 200-level psychology course which may be taken concurrently with 311. Fall.

PSY 312. History, Philosophy, and Systems 3
The development of systematic psychological thought from its ancient philosophical and religious roots through Renaissance conceptualizations and to those modern scientific and philosophical approaches which define today's boundaries of the discipline. Prerequisites: PSY 111, a 200-level psychology course, and LAA 211. Spring.

PSY 313. Child Psychology 3
The development of behavior and mental processes as a result of learning and maturation. Emphasis is on infants and children. Prerequisite: PSY 111. Fall.

PSY 314. Adolescent and Adult Development 3
The development of behavior and mental processes with emphasis on cognitive, emotional, social, and physical dimensions. Characteristic behavior patterns, problems, and issues in adolescence and adulthood are studied, including characteristics of exceptionality. Prerequisite: Psychology 111. Fall and Spring.

PSY 327. Special Topics 3
Options for students to study a wider variety of topics than can be taught on a regular basis. The topic for a semester will be announced through the department. Prerequisite: PSY 111. Fall, according to demand.

PSY 333. Forensic Psychology 3
An overview of the field of forensic psychology. The primary focus is on the interaction between the psychological and legal professions. Psychological issues underlying criminal behavior will be emphasized. The course will also address the use of psychology in civil and criminal court proceedings as well as in criminal investigations.

PSY 334. Comparative Animal Behavior 3
The evolution, development, and ecology of animal behavior. Prerequisites: PSY 111 and BIO 101 or 111. Offered according to demand.

PSY 400. Research Activity 3
Advanced participation in planning, design and conduct of research with faculty supervision. A written report or scholarly paper must be submitted to the department at the end of the project. Prerequisites: PSY 111, BSS 220, PSY 304, a written proposal copied to the department chair describing the research planned. Spring.

PSY 411. Applications and Interventions 3
Brings psychological knowledge and methods to bear on problems in such areas as business, consumer affairs, education, the environment, health, law, sports or other areas of interest to the seminar members. Prerequisites: PSY 111 and 311. Offered according to demand.

PSY 421. Abnormal Behavior 3
An introduction to psychopathology with a focus on the clinical features of the major psychological disorders in the DSM classification system. Emphasis is on the causes, characteristics, prevention, and treatment of the major disorders. Prerequisite: PSY 111 and one 300-level psychology course. Fall.

PSY 422. Foundations in Counseling and Psychotherapy 3
A skills-oriented course covering the stages of the counseling process, counseling techniques, and ethical guidelines for counselors with ample opportunity for practicing specific skills. Enrollment is limited and senior psychology majors will have priority. Prerequisites: PSY 111, 311 or 314, and 421. Spring.

PSY 426. Social and Psychological Aspects of Religion 3
See SOC 426. Prerequisite: an upper-level course in the discipline or permission of the instructor. Offered according to demand.

PSY 436. Human Motivation 3
The causes of behavior of humans with special emphasis given to the role of emotions as activators of other behaviors. The seminar covers both the neurochemical and subjective, experiential aspects of motivation and emotion. The influences of learning, maturational processes, and the social environment are also noted. Prerequisites: PSY 111 and 221. Offered according to demand.

PSY 457, 458. Directed Readings 3
Readings chosen by the professor in collaboration with the student. A reading and examination plan must be completed, approved and copied to the department chair prior to the registration day of the semester in which the course is undertaken. Prerequisite: PSY 111 plus six additional hours in psychology and permission of instructor. If the student makes reports on readings without taking exams, course will be graded S/U. Spring.

PSY 461. Internships 3
Field work off campus in applied psychology. This experience must be arranged and coordinated through the host agency involved and a supervising faculty member in psychology. Students should make arrangements well in advance of the semester in which the work is to be done. Graded S/U. Prerequisites: PSY 111, 12 additional hours in psychology, and a proposal copied to the department chair describing the work to be undertaken. Spring.

PSY 470. Senior Thesis and Seminar 3
Designed to summarize and synthesize students’ study in the field and to give them the opportunity to investigate, discuss and write a thesis on a key issue. Prerequisites: Senior standing or permission of instructor; PSY 111, 221, 222, 304, and 312. Fall.

Recreation

REC 208. Outdoor Recreation Skill Lab 2
An introduction to the area of outdoor recreation skills. Course content includes the following: outings, hiking, outdoor cookery, trailing, orienteering, backpacking, canoeing, rock climbing, tenting, fire-building, safety, and first aid. Activities will be both in the classroom and in the field. Field trips required. Fall.

REC 209. Leadership in Recreation 2
Games and leadership in recreation and leisure services including the basic concepts of leadership techniques, group dynamics and interaction, and evaluation of leadership. Spring.

REC 221. Introduction to Recreation and Leisure Services 3
History and development of recreation in public, private and commercial settings; backgrounds and theories; objectives and principles; job opportunities and demands. Fall.

REC 224. Outdoor Recreation Leadership 2
This course consists of training outdoor leaders in skills and in decision making needed for group leadership. Required field experiences are designed to provide the student with technical and interpersonal skills and knowledge necessary in the area of outdoor leadership. Fall, Spring.

REC 261. Internship 1-6
An initial exploratory experience outside the classroom. Designed to explore new areas or to supplement regular courses. Credit awarded upon successful completion of the internship as described in the student-originated and departmentally-approved proposal. May be repeated for a total of 6 semester hours credit. Graded on S/U basis.

REC 300. Recreation Field Work 2
An opportunity for the recreation major to receive experience in one or more types of recreational agencies. The student will observe recreation programs in operation and will organize and conduct activities under close supervision, which will be provided by both agency personnel and departmental faculty. Open only to recreation majors with sophomore status or above. Prerequisite: REC 221. Graded on a S/U basis.

REC 309. Planning and Design of Recreation Areas and Facilities 3
Planning principles and techniques for acquiring, developing, and providing areas and facilities for recreation, park, and leisure service agencies. Emphasis on site selection, design, environmental analysis, development of site plans and master plans, accessibility and barrier-free design for various types of areas and facilities. Fall.

REC 321. Program Planning in Recreation 3
The principles and methods of program development including principles of planning programs, facilities, objectives, and activities; utilization of facilities and time-blocks; program evaluation. Prerequisites: REC 221, 300, junior status. Spring.

REC 324. Interpretation of Cultural and Natural Resources 3
Study and practice in the techniques of interpretation of natural and cultural resources. Developing the skills of designing, producing, and presenting interpretative materials and programs to all segments of the population in a recreational setting. Prerequisites: REC 221 or instructor permission. Spring.

REC 325. Therapeutic Recreation 3
An introduction to therapeutic recreation including the following: the historical development of rehabilitation and therapeutic recreation, activities and leadership, therapeutic recreation processes, therapeutic recreation agencies and institutions providing service to special populations. Field trips required. Prerequisite: REC 221. Spring.

REC 326. Natural Resource Management 3
Focus on the development of natural resource management as it relates to outdoor recreation with emphasis on management agencies, resource bases, management concepts, techniques and planning. Prerequisites: REC 221, 300, 324. Spring.

REC 327. Special Topics 3
Workshop or specialized study experiences designed to provide concentrated study and/or participation in a specific area of interest in therapeutic, outdoor, church, or community recreation.

REC 329. Techniques and Methods in Therapeutic Recreation 3
Concepts associated with clinical application of Therapeutic Recreation including facilitation techniques, client assessment methods, activity analysis, development of behavior goals and objectives, and program evaluation. Spring.

REC 332. Client Assessment in Therapeutic Recreation 3
Introduction to leisure counseling, stress management, and leisure education and an overview of current applications of such programs in therapeutic settings and leisure service systems. Prerequisite: REC 325, REC 300. Fall.

REC 441. Recreation Administration 3
Organization, administration, and management of a leisure service delivery system including principles of organization and administration, budgeting and finance management, publicity and public relations, personnel management, legislation, and coordination of community resources. Prerequisites: REC 221, 300, 321, 325; recreation major; senior status. Fall.

REC 450. Recreation Internship 12
A professional field experience 12 weeks, 480 contact hours with a recreational agency designed to enable the recreation major to relate theory to practice. Prior to agency assignment the internship experience will be designed by the departmental faculty supervisor, in consultation with the student, to emphasize the experiential needs of the student. Student supervision during this course will be provided by both agency personnel and departmental faculty. Prerequisites: Senior status and all recreation courses completed; overall 2.0 GPA. Graded on an S/U basis.

REC 457, 458. Directed Readings 1-3
Independent readings directed by members of the department faculty.

REC 460. Independent Study in Recreation 3
An opportunity for independent investigation, readings, and/or research in a professional area of interest.

REC 461. Internship 2-6
The application, outside the classroom, of previously attained knowledge and skills, through study and through significant service to a group or organization. Credit awarded upon successful completion of the internship as described in the agency/student-originated and departmentally-approved proposal. May be repeated for a total of 6 semester hours of credit. Graded on an S/U basis.

Regional Studies

RS 211. Introduction to Regional Studies 3
An introduction to the interdisciplinary study of place through its natural environment, society, and culture. Using the Blue Ridge region as a text, the course emphasizes experiential learning and comparison to other regions. Required for Regional Studies Minor. Meets American Diversity Connector requirement.

RS 261. Internship 1-6

RS 327. Special Topics 3
Options for students to study, according to their interests, a variety of topics not covered in regular courses.

RS 460. Independent Study 3
Independent reading and research based upon a proposal approved by the faculty director, and program coordinator. Prerequisites: RS 211 and RS 261.

RS 461. Internship 1-6
A field-learning experience based upon a proposal approved by the faculty advisor, project supervisor, and program coordinator. Proposed experience should enable students to apply previously attained knowledge and skills on an advanced level.

Religion

REL 115. Religion: Search for Meaning 3
An introduction to the fundamental significance of the religious dimensions of life through an exploration of an array of religious systems that express the human experience of ultimate meaning. Fall.

REL 201. Biblical Literature – An Introduction 4
The protestant Bible collects 66 ancient literary works, each written separately by different authors, using a number of different genres: story, history, poetry, song, prophecy, letters, and law. This course challenges students to read the Biblical writings more deeply than they ever have before, using historical and literary methods of study. We strive both to understand Biblical literature contextually, and to consider how its narratives, images, and themes continue to permeate our imaginative, religious and political worlds. Prerequisites: ENG 111, 112, or permission of instructor. Spring. Meets Connectors course for Literature.

REL 235. Judaism 3
Judaism is at once a sister faith with Christianity, and the faith from which Christianity developed much of its form, beliefs and worship styles. The two share many touchstones of belief: sacred literature, the idea and role of God, and God’s purposes in creation and history. This course introduces the distinctive history, literature, thought, beliefs and practices of Judaism. It presents the wide diversity of faithful Jewish expression, from earliest times depicted in the Old Testament, through the faith’s modern expressions. Sponsored by the Jewish Chautauqua Society. *Meets American Diversity Connectors requirement.

REL 237. Religions in America 3
This course traces themes and influences in American religion. In addition to investigating various Christian expressions of religion in America (e.g. Puritanism, the rise of denominations, and sects), the course will examine how other world religions (including Native American religion) have made their presence seen and impact felt upon the American religious scene. Finally, using lenses of race, class, and gender, this course will view the fuller pluralism that makes up “Religion in America.” Throughout we will maintain a dual focus on how the various religious traditions change the American environment and how America changes its multi-religious context. Meets American Diversity Connectors requirement.

REL 240. Islam 3
An introduction to the theologies, practices, cultures, and varieties of Islam, from its founding in the 6th century C.E. to its present forms around the world. The course will include the life of Mohammed and the incorporation of Muhammad the Prophet into the faith tradition; the early spread of Islam and the relationships between religion and politics throughout Islamic history and cultures; the teachings of the Qur’an, the Hadith and the Shar’iah; Islam and other religious traditions – interreligious dialogue; the practice of Islam in daily lives; the roles of women and men in Islam across cultures; the varieties of Islam (Sunnis, Shi’ites, Sufism), and contemporary Islamic movements. Alternate years. Prerequisites: REL 115 or permission of instructor.

REL 241. Hinduism and Buddhism 3
This course examines two of the religions born in India: Hinduism and Buddhism. These ancient traditions respond to human questions about the nature of suffering and anxiety and how to live in a world filled with loss. The relationships between Buddhism and its parent religion, Hinduism, will be explored historically and philosophically. India, Nepal, and Thailand will be the geographic and cultural context for the course, which will consider philosophical and doctrinal issues, as well as cultural issues, such as the roles of men and women, the relationship between politics, and religion, inter-religious dialogue, and ecological concerns raised by in these traditions in the past and today. Alternate years. Prerequisite: REL 115 or permission of instructor.

* Alumni Trustee (serves one-year term)

Board of Advisors

This board was established in 1967 by the Board of Trustees to assist the college in the achievement of long-range goals. By consulting with the president of the college and the trustees, advisors add variety, strength and experience to the administrative structure of the college. The board is comprised of interested persons — both alumni and friends of the college — of various Christian faiths and from several states. The board has been helpful in fund-raising, student recruitment, long-range planning, and general public relations. Its recommendations are channeled through the Board of Trustees, which remains the official policy-making body of the college.
