

The following is the most recent data reported by the state of North Carolina based on public school employment of teacher education program completers. Because NC calculates 4-year completer employment data, the most recent available data was reported in 2017 to include program completers for 2012-2013. Completers who take positions in private schools, out of state, or outside of the area for which they were prepared are not included in these figures.
